SPRINGTOWN CORPSE THAT OF BOY WHO LEFT HOME AFTER QUARREL

Michael Saladino, Not Yet 16 Years Old, Chided by Father, Ran Away and After Vainly Seeking Work, Hanged Himself in Mertz's Barn—Body Exhumed For Uncle to Identify.

The body of the stranger which was found hanging in the barn of Charles Mertz at Springtown, in the town of New Paltz, on Friday, June 24, was identified on Sunday as that of Michael Saladino of Milton.

Identification of the body was made by an uncle living at Milton after the body had been exhumed by direction of Coroner George Suiter.

Saladino, who would have been sixteen years old if he had lived until September 8 next, committed suicide on Sunday, June 19, after he had been refused work at several farms in the vicinity of New Paltz, including the Mertz farm.

He had left home several days before the day he hanged himself, after the quarrel with his father. The family raise many berries and in making out the shipping bills, Saladino had written in the word "strawberries" instead of "raspberries," which led to words with his father when the latter discovered the mistake. That night Saladino left home and was not seen by his family afterward.

Evidently he traveled through the southern part of the county and finally reached New Paltz and Springtown. His family learned through the newspapers that a young man had been found dead at Springtown and on Sunday Saladino's uncle called on Coroner George Suiter of Marlborough, who described the condition in which the body had been found and the clothing that had been worn. To make identification possible he had the body exhumed and the uncle identified the body by the clothing.

Saladino was large for his age and when his body was found he was supposed to be about 24 or 25 years old.

WANTS VOTE ON B'WAY CROSSING

Alderman Macholdt Introduces Resolution That Before Crossing is Eliminated Taxpayers Have Something to Say at Fall Election in Matter.

Alderman Macholdt of the Ninth ward on Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the common council introduced a resolution directing Mayor Canfield and the proper city officials to draw up a set of questions on the Broadway crossing elimination to be submitted to the voters at the fall election, and that in the meantime the city be put to no further expense until it was decided by the vote of the taxpayers whether the elimination was wanted or not.

The resolution was a lengthy one and set forth the fact that under the decision handed down in the recent taxpayer's action the city's burden of the expense of the elimination would be very heavy and that as the money would have to be raised by taxation or bonding, the taxpayers should be given a chance to express their mind on the subject freely.

The resolution, without comment from introducer, mayor or other aldermen, was referred to the mayor and corporation counsel.

SMUTS, HOPEFUL, LEAVES DUBLIN

Tells Lloyd-George Sinn Fein is in Mood for Armistice Which He Hopes Will be Immediate Result of Conference He Plans to Attend in Dublin Friday.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 6.—General Jan Christian Smuts, premier of South Africa, today returned from his flying peace trip to Dublin. It is understood that he brought back with him an important message of a political nature.

General Smuts arrived at 5 o'clock. He went to a hotel for a breakfast and shortly afterwards departed for Premier-Lloyd George's official residence at 10 Downing street for a conference.

General Smuts later attended a meeting of the sub-committee of the British imperial conference.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, was closeted with the premier at Downing street for some time.

The conference of the premier and General Smuts was joined by Lord Middleton, an Irish Unionist, and Sir James Craig, head of the Ulster government.

The International News Service learned that General Smuts attaches the greatest importance to the proposed Irish armistice. He is said to have informed Premier Lloyd-George that once fighting stops "it would take a lot to start it again."

General Smuts plans to return to Dublin to attend the Friday session of the conference between Sinn Feiners and an Ulsterman, and he may confer with Premier Craig of Ulster.

The South African statesman spent only one day in Dublin, but in that time he held conferences with a number of the Sinn Fein chiefs. He arrived in Dublin and departed secretly. The first intimation that he had left the city was contained in a dispatch circulated by the semi-official press association, sayin that "General Smuts had left Dublin," apparently for London."

During his brief sojourn in Dublin, General Smuts informed the Sinn Feiners how far the British government would go towards granting self government to Ireland. The republicans outlined the concessions they were willing to make to the Unionists in Ireland.

General Smuts was said to have been impressed by the conciliatory nature of the conversations and belief was current here that his mission will be productive of much good and will assist Premier Lloyd-George materially in his efforts to bring about a peace parley in London.

It is possible that Premier Massey of New Zealand may be called into the peace proceedings.

Irish officials believe that a truce can be arranged by Friday.

"If the war is once stopped it is unlikely that it will be renewed," said one attache.

Officials who were formerly pessimistic are now taking a hopeful view of the situation.

LOWER GAS RATE FIGHT STILL ON

Mr. Brinnier Informs Aldermen That Six Months' Time Limit on New Gas Rates Expire July 17, and is Instructed to File New Application.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier sent in a communication to the common council Tuesday evening calling attention to the fact that the city's fight for a reduction in the gas rates was now before the appellate division but that body would not meet until September. In the meantime the six months' period granted the gas company to increase its gas rates expires on July 17, and that if no further action was taken by the city the new rates would continue in force until the matter was threshed out in the courts.

Alderman Higgins offered a resolution that the mayor and corporation counsel file with the public service commission a petition asking for a reduction in the present gas rates.

Alderman Martin amended the resolution by striking out the word "reduction" and inserting that the rate that existed before the city's contract with the gas company was broken be put back into effect.

Alderman Macholdt seconded the Higgins resolution with the Martin amendment.

Alderman Kullman and Alderman Roosa opposed the amendment on the ground that it was hardly likely that the public service commission would restore the old rates for gas. Alderman Kullman said that if the gas company had been given some relief in the first place they would not have gone to the public service commission after such permission was refused by the aldermen and been granted the exorbitant rates that they were now charging for their gas.

On roll call the Martin amendment was lost and the original Higgins resolution was adopted.

Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

BOY DROWNS

In Quarry Hole Just As He Begins Vacation.

After arriving at High Woods in Saugerties, but a few hours, on Saturday, John Grant Wanless, an eight year old Brooklyn boy, went to his death in a watery grave in a quarry hole. Young Wanless with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wanless, went to Saugerties Saturday morning on the steamer Robert A. Snyder, and then went to Mr. Petersen's at High Woods for a vacation stay. After dinner, with some companions, the boy went fishing in a nearby quarry hole and losing his pole, made a grab for it, when the bank of earth slid under with him throwing him into the water which was fifteen feet deep. Unable to swim he sank almost immediately and one of his companions diving for him could not locate the body. The body was then recovered by means of a hook. Coroner Conner of Kingston viewed the body and issued a burial permit. Sunday afternoon the body was taken, via N. Y. C. R. R., to Brooklyn for interment in Evergreen cemetery.

CITY SCHOOL TAX FIXED AT $10.60

Aldermen Adopt Education Board's Budget Calling for $203,041.64—Want's Aber's Permit Revoked—Damage Claims Against City—Other Matters.

Without a dissenting vote the common council Tuesday evening approved the education board's budget calling for the raising of $203,041.64 by city tax to carry on the work of the public schools next year. The school tax rate is fixed at $10.60 per thousand valuation. The budget of the board was printed in The Freeman at the time it was adopted by the board at its June meeting.

City Treasurer Pardee was authorized to employ extra clerks during the tax collection period at a sum not to exceed $200.

Wants Aber's Permit Revoked.

A lengthy communication was received by the aldermen from William and Jesse Van Kleeck, who operate the Ellenville-Kingston bus line, calling attention to the fact that while Daniel C. Aber was granted permission in April to operate a bus line he had not done so for over three months, and thinking that he had given up the idea of operating they had ordered another bus which would arrive shortly. Since then Aber had started operating on the route July 1, when the summer travel was at its height. The Van Kleecks asked that as long as Aber did not start to operate until after three months had elapsed after receiving permission, that the council revoke Aber's permit.

Alderman Macholdt said that if it was in order he would move that the permit granted Aber be revoked.

President Dittus said he would refer the matter to the bus committee and that they would look after the matter.

Wants $300 From City.

Claudia B. Wells filed a claim for damages in the sum of $300 against the city for alleged injuries to her right arm in a fall on the sidewalk on Broadway, near Gildersleeve's, on May 12, due to the fact that one of the flag stones in the sidewalk had been taken up and she had stepped into the hole and injured her arm. The claim was referred to the auditing committee and the corporation counsel.

Tree Branch Damaged Car.

Attorney Floyd W. Powell filed a claim with the council for $200 damages to his automobile caused by it being hit with a falling limb from a tree in front of the Sharpe residence on Albany avenue on June 13.

At the time Mr. Powell was driving along the street in his car when the limb of the tree suddenly fell on top of the automobile, damaging it, according to Mr. Powell, the amount claimed by him.

This claim was also referred to the auditing committee and the corporation counsel.

Some Street Work.

The following resolutions were introduced:

By Alderman Higgins—That Prospect street be made safe and that the board of public works rebuild it from Franklin street to Cedar street. Referred to that board.

By Alderman Higgins—That holes in Van Buren street be filled. Referred to board of public works.

By Alderman Purvis—That motor car drivers and owners meet with the bus committee to hear their grievances at a meeting to be held July 19, which was referred to that committee.

By Alderman Macholdt: That west end of Staples street be curbed and guttered. To board public works.

By Alderman Kirchner: That a few streets in the Seventh ward be oiled and that Abeel street be flushed as it was in filthy condition since last storm. To board public works.

By Alderman Kirchner: That Post street be repaired: To board public works.

By Alderman Lemister: That gutters on upper end of Third avenue be opened. To board public works.

Wants Fourth Avenue Opened.

Alderman Lemister introduced a resolution asking that Fourth avenue be opened. Within the past year fourteen building lots have been sold from the upper end of that avenue but the street in front of the lots had never been opened. The work of opening the street would not cost over $500, the alderman estimated. It was referred to the board of public works.

After Gas Company.

Mayor Canfield's veto against assessing the gas meters in the city was read and stood as no opposition was made. Later in the evening, however, Alderman Martin introduced a resolution directing the city assessor in assessing the real property of the gas company to assess it at the value placed on it by the gas company itself when applying for an increase in rates to the public service commission. The resolution was referred to Assessor Block.

Lights And Other Things.

Alderman Martin introduced a resolution that an arc light be placed on Lucas avenue which was referred to the board of public works. He also introduced a resolution calling for the laying of Willite or brick between the trolley tracks on Washington avenue.

Mayor Canfield, who was present, said that it would not be possible to lay Willite between the tracks as it would not work well. He said that he had given a full explanation of the matter in a letter written by him and recently printed in The Freeman.

Alderman Martin introduced a resolution calling on the gas company to get busy and light the viaduct lights. It was referred to the board of public works.

Mayor Canfield said that the board had taken that matter up with the gas company, and they had informed the board that the lights needed had not arrived, but would be installed shortly.

By Alderman Martin: That Linderman avenue be repaired from Wall street to Delta Place, to the board of public works.

By Alderman Martin: That repairs be made to the washout in yard at 53 Lucas avenue. To board of public works.

Other matters will be found elsewhere.

It was reported then that Rumania might be called upon to send troops. The Greeks were reported retiring at some points.

ACTED QUEERLY, DID THIS COW

And Fire Alarm Superintendent Elmendorf Proves the Old Saying That Once You Learn You Never Forget How to Milk.

Tuesday evening a stray cow found wandering in the city streets was taken to police headquarters and later removed to the police barn on East O'Reilly street to await the owner. This morning members of the Central Fire Station heard something pawing about out in the police barn, and realizing that the police no longer kept horses were of the opinion that it was some kind of a huge rat that had strayed into the barn and was unable to get out.

They investigated and found the cow, which certainly was acting rather queerly, and was walking uneasily about switching its tail from side to side. When it saw the fire laddies it chirked up, but as they only continued to stare at the animal it became uneasy again.

"What do you suppose is the trouble?" asked one fire lad of the other.

"Gosh, you got me,' retorted the one addressed. "I never owned a cow."

"I got yer," said one suddenly, "send for Dick Elmendorf. He was raised and bred in Old Hurley, and he can't have forgotten all he learned out on a farm."

"Fine idea," said another, and the genial superintendent of the fire alarm system was sought and found.

"Huh," grunted Dick as he gazed at the cow with an expert eye, "there is nothing wrong with the animal. Get me a pail."

"What do you want of a pail?"

"Are you going to give it a bath?"

Were some of the questions hurled at Dick, but he only grinned and when the pail was brought he looked it over carefully to see if it was clean, and then rolling up his shirt sleeves he proceeded to extract four quarts of the finest milk the firemen had enjoyed in some time.

"You sure know something," was the assurance his brother firemen fired at Dick, but he only smiled modestly as he quaffed a glass of milk and said, "That's nothing for any one who was brought up on a farm like I was, but to tell the truth boys, it was the first cow I have milked in twenty years."

"How old is Dick?" Well, that would be telling.

HILL TO OCCUPY BERLIN EMBASSY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Dr. David Jayne Hill, author, collegian and diplomatist of long experience, likely will be the administration's choice as the first American ambassador to Germany, following the world war.

The selection of Dr. Hill for the difficult post at Berlin, is said today to have already been decided upon by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.

Dr. Hill is now in Europe. He has been there for some time engaged in making an intensive study of post war conditions in Europe, particularly with reference to Germany. Just prior to his departure for abroad, Dr. Hill held a number of conferences with President Harding here.

The administration felt, it is understood, that the embassy at Berlin vacant now for four years, called for not only an experienced diplomatist, but also for one who is thoroughly grounded in the history and traditions of Europe politically and economically.

Dr. Hill qualifies in every instance, his friends say, through his long diplomatic experience as minister to Switzerland and the Netherlands, and later as ambassador to Germany under the Taft administration. In addition, he has spent a great deal of his life in Europe and is the author of a number of works on European governments and diplomacy.

Dr. Hill's most recent literary contributions have been, The Rebuilding of Europe, 1917; Impressions of the Kaiser, 1918, and Present Problems in Foreign Policy, 1919.

The general expectation in Washington, is that President Harding will name the ambassador to Germany before many weeks. Conclusion of technical peace through the passage of the congressional resolution must be followed by the negotiation of some form of a treaty, and it is believed that the United States should have an American ambassador in Berlin while the negotiations are in progress.

NEW ORDINANCE MAKES MAYOR JUDGE OF WHO SHALL SPEAK IN PUBLIC HERE

Mayor Canfield Submits and Council Adopts Ordinance Stated To Be Aimed at "Red" Agitators, Which Makes Written Permit From City's Executive Necessary Before Anyone May Address Any Public Gathering.

What was termed an ordinance to control sedition, and the muzzling of soap box orators of the "Red" variety, was submitted to the common council Tuesday evening by Mayor Canfield with the suggestion that it be adopted. Alderman Roosa moved its adoption which was unanimously carried.

Under the provisions of the ordinance no one shall make or deliver a speech or address in any public place or at any public gathering within the city without a written permit from the mayor.

Mayor Canfield when asked if it would be necessary this fall for political spellbinders to first obtain a permet, laughed and said that the ordinance was not aimed at local talent, but that it was aimed directly at that class who advocate the overthrow of the government. The ordinance in full follows: :

An ordinance regulating parades, public assemblages, public disturbances, the distribution of literature of a seditious or anarchistic nature, and use of flags emblematic of disloyalty to the government.

Passed July 5, 1921.

The common council of the city of Kingston, in pursuance of the general laws of the state and the charter of said city, do hereby ordain and enact as follows:

Section One.—No person shall distribute anywhere within the city of Kingston any bills, notices, dodgers, circulars or printed matter in any form which tend to disturb the public peace or morals, or which advise, advocate or urge the overthrow of the government of the United States or any state thereof, or of any municipal corporation therein, by the use of violence, force, or other unlawful methods; or which advise, advocate or urge the commission of any crime or any violation of law. Nor shall any any person, association, committee or corporation distribute or cause to be distributed any bills, notices, dodgers, circulars or printed matter of any kind, without a written permit from the mayor, unless there is plainly printed thereon the name of the person, association, committee or corporation ordering or directing the distribution thereof.

Section Two.—No person shall participate in any parade, demonstration, public gathering or assemblage within the city, formed or called for the purpose of inciting, advising or urging the use of violence, force or the commission of any act in violation of law; or at which any of such acts or things are advocated, advised, urged or committed. Nor shall any person, exhibit or display within the city any flag, banner or device which is emblematic of any movement, plan or project tending to disturb the public peace or quiet, or cause the overthrow of the government by violence, force or other unlawful method.

Section Three.—No person shall participate in any parade, gathering, assemblage or demonstration upon any street, square, park orotherplace within the city to which the public are invited or have access, which parade, gathering, assemblage or demonstration has not been authorized by a written permit from the mayor.

Section Four—No person shall make or deliver a speech or address in any public place or at any public gathering or assemblage within the city, without a written permit from the mayor, who may, in the exercise of his discretion grant or refuse such permit, and who shall have authority to impose such terms and conditions in connection with any such permit as he shall deem to be advisable for the public peace and safety.

Section Five—No owner, tenant, agent or person in charge of any place, building or room shall knowingly permit therein any assemblage of persons or the doing of any act prohibited by any of the provisions of this section.

Section Six—The mayor or chief of police may revoke any such permit for any violation of the conditfons thereof, and such permit shall become void upon any such violation whether so revoked or not, and the mayor may suspend such permit during an investigation as to whether any such conditions have been violated.

Section Seven.—The violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor.

Section Eight—This ordinance shall be published twice in each of the official papers in the city and shall take effect immediately after the publication thereof.

HUGHES'S PEACE PLAN THOROUGH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—With the emphatic reiteration by administration officials that the rights and interests guaranteed to the United States under the Versailles treaty must be safeguarded in any plan which may be worked out for permanently settling the multitudinous questions resulting from the war with Germany, conviction grew here today that whether the plan evolved by Secretary Hughes is to bear the name of the Versailles treaty or not, much of that document will be retained.

Secretary Hughes himself has carefully refrained from public statement as to the form the convention will take, and has even declined to indicate whether negotiations with Germany will be necessary in the process of bringing about a definite settlement. Emphasis is laid, however, on the fact that congress by an overwhelming vote has registered its desire that the United States lose nothing ceded it by the Versailles pact, and the administration has heartily endorsed this view.

Every conceivable problem, it was pointed out, is provided for in the document which is the basis of the present political and economic organization of Europe.

Many of these clauses have to do with questions in which the United States is immediately and vitally interested. It provides for example, for the reimbursement of nations maintaining armies of occupation on the Rhine. Incidentally, the American share in this particular claim to date is $269,000,000.

This and many other claims must be permanently secured to the United States. The problem which has confronted Secretary Hughes is to decide upon the form of agreement best calculated to achieve that end, at the same time bearing in mind that such an instrument must be ratified by the senate.

While officials are reluctant to prophesy when the army of occupation on the Rhine will return home, it was indicated today that there should be no thought of withdrawal until Germany has agreed to a final definite settlement and has given evidence of her intention to abide by the decision. Under the terms of the treaty of Versailles, the armies of occupation are on the Rhine as a sanction or guarantee of the good faith of Germany and may be retained there until the victor nations are satisfied that their need longer exists.

SERIOUS SITUATION AT TAMPICO

Mexican General Fears Result of Oil Companies Throwing Thousands Out of Work and Asserts He Will Make Them Pay Men Three Months' Wages.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 6.—General Gomez, commander of the Mexican military forces at Tampico, who came here to confer with President Obregon, said today that the Tampico situation is very grave.

Within a few days 20,000 laborers will be out of work as a result of the suspension of work by oil companies in the Tampico fields, General Gomez declared.

A report is circulated that the Standard Oil Company intends to "boycott" the Mexican government and to force smaller companies out.

The English oil companies, General Gomez said, were continuing work and were paying the government the new export tax, which some of the American companies have refused to pay.

General Gomez declared that, when he returned to Tampico he would compel the oil companies to pay discharged workmen three months' pay as provided under the laws.

Mexican officials admit that the situation is serious, but only economically and not politically, they say.

A report was current on Tuesday that five American warships were en route for Tampico. It caused much excitement but the government calmed the populace by saying it had no information that the warships were coming into Mexican waters.

There was another report that the American government had sent a new note dealing with the oil situation, but this was officially denied by the foreign office.

LOWER GAS RATE FIGHT STILL ON

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier sent in a communication to the common council Tuesday evening calling attention to the fact that the city's fight for a reduction in the gas rates was now before the appellate division but that body would not meet until September. In the meantime the six months' period granted the gas company to increase its gas rates expires on July 17, and that if no further action was taken by the city the new rates would continue in force until the matter was threshed out in the courts.

Alderman Higgins offered a resolution that the mayor and corporation counsel file with the public service commission a petition asking for a reduction in the present gas rates.

Alderman Martin amended the resolution by striking out the word "reduction" and inserting that the rate that existed before the city's contract with the gas company was broken be put back into effect.

Alderman Macholdt seconded the Higgins resolution with the Martin amendment.

Alderman Kullman and Alderman Roosa opposed the amendment on the ground that it was hardly likely that the public service commission would restore the old rates for gas. Alderman Kullman said that if the gas company had been given some relief in the first place they would not have gone to the public service commission after such permission was refused by the aldermen and been granted the exorbitant rates that they were now charging for their gas.

On roll call the Martin amendment was lost and the original Higgins resolution was adopted.

Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

BOY DROWNS

In Quarry Hole Just As He Begins Vacation.

After arriving at High Woods in Saugerties, but a few hours, on Saturday, John Grant Wanless, an eight year old Brooklyn boy, went to his death in a watery grave in a quarry hole. Young Wanless with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wanless, went to Saugerties Saturday morning on the steamer Robert A. Snyder, and then went to Mr. Petersen's at High Woods for a vacation stay. After dinner, with some companions, the boy went fishing in a nearby quarry hole and losing his pole, made a grab for it, when the bank of earth slid under with him throwing him into the water which was fifteen feet deep. Unable to swim he sank almost immediately and one of his companions diving for him could not locate the body. The body was then recovered by means of a hook. Coroner Conner of Kingston viewed the body and issued a burial permit. Sunday afternoon the body was taken, via N. Y. C. R. R., to Brooklyn for interment in Evergreen cemetery.

CITY SCHOOL TAX FIXED AT $10.60

Aldermen Adopt Education Board's Budget Calling for $203,041.64—Want's Aber's Permit Revoked—Damage Claims Against City—Other Matters.

Without a dissenting vote the common council Tuesday evening approved the education board's budget calling for the raising of $203,041.64 by city tax to carry on the work of the public schools next year. The school tax rate is fixed at $10.60 per thousand valuation. The budget of the board was printed in The Freeman at the time it was adopted by the board at its June meeting.

Wants Aber's Permit Revoked.

A lengthy communication was received by the aldermen from William and Jesse Van Kleeck, who operate the Ellenville-Kingston bus line, calling attention to the fact that while Daniel C. Aber was granted permission in April to operate a bus line he had not, done so for over three months, and thinking that he had given up the idea of operating they had ordered another bus which would arrive shortly. Since then Aber had started operating on the route July 1, when the summer travel was at its height. The Van Kleecks asked that as long as Aber did not start to operate until after three months had elapsed after receiving permission, that the council revoke Aber's permit.

Alderman Macholdt said that if it was in order he would move that the permit granted Aber be revoked.

President Dittus said he would refer the matter to the bus committee and that they would look after the matter.

Wants $300 From City.

Claudia B. Wells filed a claim for damages in the sum of $300 against the city for alleged injuries to her right arm in a fall on the sidewalk on Broadway, near Gildersleeve's, on May 12, due to the fact that one of the flag stones in the sidewalk had been taken up and she had stepped into the hole and injured her arm. The claim was referred to the auditing committee and the corporation counsel.

Tree Branch Damaged Car.

Attorney Floyd W. Powell filed a claim with the council for $200 damages to his automobile caused by it being hit with a falling limb from a tree in front of the Sharpe residence on Albany avenue on June 13.

At the time Mr. Powell was driving along the street in his car when the limb of the tree suddenly fell on top of the automobile, damaging it, according to Mr. Powell, the amount claimed by him.

This claim was also referred to the auditing committee and the corporation counsel.

Some Street Work.

The following resolutions were introduced:

By Alderman Higgins—That Prospect street be made safe and that the board of public works rebuild it from Franklin street to Cedar street. Referred to that board.

By Alderman Higgins—That holes in Van Buren street be filled. Referred to board of public works.

By Alderman Purvis—That motor car drivers and owners meet with the bus committee to hear their grievances at a meeting to be held July 19, which was referred to that committee.

By Alderman Macholdt: That west end of Staples street be curbed and guttered. To board public works.

By Alderman Kirchner: That a few streets in the Seventh ward be oiled and that Abeel street be flushed as it was in filthy condition since last storm. To board public works.

By Alderman Kirchner: That Post street be repaired: To board public works.

By Alderman Lemister: That gutters on upper end of Third avenue be opened. To board public works.

Wants Fourth Avenue Opened.

Alderman Lemister introduced a resolution asking that Fourth avenue be opened. Within the past year fourteen building lots have been sold from the upper end of that avenue but the street in front of the lots had never been opened. The work of opening the street would not cost over $500, the alderman estimated. It was referred to the board of public works.

After Gas Company.

Mayor Canfield's veto against assessing the gas meters in the city was read and stood as no opposition was made. Later in the evening, however, Alderman Martin introduced a resolution directing the city assessor in assessing the real property of the gas company to assess it at the value placed on it by the gas company itself when applying for an increase in rates to the public service commission. The resolution was referred to Assessor Block.

Lights And Other Things.

Alderman Martin introduced a resolution that an arc light be placed on Lucas avenue which was referred to the board of public works. He also introduced a resolution calling for the laying of Willite or brick between the trolley tracks on Washington avenue.

Mayor Canfield, who was present, said that it would not be possible to lay Willite between the tracks as it would not work well. He said that he had given a full explanation of the matter in a letter written by him and recently printed in The Freeman.

Alderman Martin introduced a resolution calling on the gas company to get busy and light the standard lights. It was referred to the board of public works.

Mayor Canfield said that the board had taken that matter up with the gas company, and they had informed the board that the lights needed had not arrived, but would be installed shortly.

By Alderman Martin: That Lindeman avenue be repaired from Wall street to Delta Place, to the board of public works.

By Alderman Martin: That repairs be made to the pavement in front of 53 Lucas avenue. To board of public works.

Other matters will be found elsewhere.

LIQUOR SEIZED AT MARZ'S PLACE

State Troopers Raid Saugerties Road Hotel and Bring Back Assortment of Alcoholic Concoctions.

Armed with a search and seizure warrant issued by County Judge Fowler, First Sergeant McGovern and three state troopers searched William Marz's hotel on the Saugerties road at Katrine Tuesday evening and seized a quantity of alleged booze which did not come within the "one-half of one per cent" law. The troopers who made the raid discovered a quantity of alleged whiskey, vermouth and cordials together with cider and other liquors which they brought back with them and left with Sheriff Kolts for safe keeping.

The search was made early in the evening and the troopers returned to the court house with their stock shortly after eight o'clock.

ONE SHOT IN GA. RAIL STRIKE

Engineer Seriously Injured by Men Said to Have Been Strikers Hidden in Corn Field—Troops Called to Protect A. B. and A. Workers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 6.—Three companies of infantry have been ordered here by Governor Hardwick to protect employes and property of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, following serious rioting here last night. Fifty deputy sheriffs have been sworn in to assist the troops. W. T. Reid, engineer of the A. B. and A., is believed to have a chance of recovery from gunshot wounds received during the disorders.

Reid was shot when a volley was fired from a corn field at a A. B. and A. engine. Deputy sheriffs and the men in the corn field declared to be striking employes of the railway, engaged in a thirty minute battle.

The outbreak is laid to trouble late Monday evening when shots were said to have been fired from an engine into a picket post maintained by the strikers.

Everything was quiet here when the three companies of troops arrived today from Macon and Cordele. There has been no further fighting during the night.

Governor Hardwick issued orders for dispatch of the troops when a request was made by Sheriff E. H. Dorminy. Al ltroops are under command of Colonel H. E. Russell of Macon.

BRITISH FLEET OFF FOR TURKEY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 6.—The entire British Mediterrannean fleet is moving towards Constantinople, said a news agency despatch from Malta this afternoon. It is rumored that British troop reinforcements are en route to Constantinople from England.

Advices from Constantinople on Tuesday said that the Turkish Nationalists had occupied the whole of the Ismid peninsula and were entering the neutral zone in the direction of Constantinople. It was reported then that Rumania might be called upon to send troops. The Greeks were reported retiring at some points.

ACTED QUEERLY, DID THIS COW

And Fire Alarm Superintendent Elmendorf Proves the Old Saying That Once You Learn You Never Forget How to Milk.

Tuesday evening a stray cow found wandering in the city streets was taken to police headquarters and later removed to the police barn on East O'Reilly street to await the owner. This morning members of the Central Fire Station heard something pawing about out in the police barn, and realizing that the police no longer kept horses were of the opinion that it was some kind of a huge rat that had strayed into the barn and was unable to get out.

They investigated and found the cow, which certainly was acting rather queerly, and was walking uneasily about switching its tail from side to side. When it saw the fire laddies it chirked up, but as they only continued to stare at the animal it became uneasy again.

"What do you suppose is the trouble?" asked one fire lad of the other.

"Gosh, you got me," retorted the one addressed. "I never owned a cow."

"I got yer," said one suddenly, "send for Dick Elmendorf. He was raised and bred in Old Hurley, and he can't have forgotten all he learned out on a farm."

"Fine idea," said another, and the genial superintendent of the fire alarm system was sought and found.

"Huh," grunted Dick as he gazed at the cow with an expert eye, "there is nothing wrong with the animal. Get me a pail."

"Are you going to give it a bath?"

Were some of the questions hurled at Dick, but he only grinned and when the pail was brought he looked it over carefully to see if it was clean, and then rolling up his shirt sleeves he proceeded to extract four quarts of the finest milk the firemen had enjoyed in some time.

"You sure know something," was the assurance his brother firemen fired at Dick, but he only smiled modestly as he quaffed a glass of milk and said, "That's nothing for any one who was brought up on a farm like I was, but to tell the truth boys, it was the first cow I have milked in twenty years."

"How old is Dick?" Well, that would be telling.

HILL TO OCCUPY BERLIN EMBASSY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Dr. David Jayne Hill, author, collegian and diplomatist of long experience, likely will be the administration's choice as the first American ambassador to Germany, following the world war.

The selection of Dr. Hill for the difficult post at Berlin, is said today to have already been decided upon by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.

Dr. Hill is now in Europe. He has been there for some time engaged in making an intensive study of post war conditions in Europe, particularly with reference to Germany. Just prior to his departure for abroad, Dr. Hill held a number of conferences with President Harding here.

The administration felt, it is understood, that the embassy at Berlin vacant now for four years, called for not only an experienced diplomatist, but also for one who is thoroughly grounded in the history and traditions of Europe politically and economically.

Dr. Hill qualifies in every instance, his friends say, through his long diplomatic experience as minister to Switzerland and the Netherlands, and later as ambassador to Germany under the Taft administration. In addition, he has spent a great deal of his life in Europe and is the author of a number of works on European governments and diplomacy.

Dr. Hill's most recent literary contributions have been, The Rebuilding of Europe, 1917; Impressions of the Kaiser, 1918, and Present Problems in Foreign Policy, 1919.

The general expectation in Washington, is that President Harding will name the ambassador to Germany before many weeks. Conclusion of technical peace through the passage of the constitutional resolution must be followed by the negotiation of some form of a treaty, and it is believed that the United States should have an American ambassador in Berlin while the negotiations are in progress.

NEW ORDINANCE MAKES MAYOR JUDGE OF WHO SHALL SPEAK IN PUBLIC HERE

Mayor Canfield Submits and Council Adopts Ordinance Stated To Be Aimed at "Red" Agitators, Which Makes Written Permit From City's Executive Necessary Before Anyone May Address Any Public Gathering.

What was termed an ordinance to control sedition, and the muzzling of soap box orators of the "Red" variety, was submitted to the common council Tuesday evening by Mayor Canfield with the suggestion that it be adopted. Alderman Roosa moved its adoption which was unanimously carried.

Under the provisions of the ordinance no one shall make or deliver a speech or address in any public place or at any public gathering within the city without a written permit from the mayor.

Mayor Canfield when asked if it would be necessary this fall for political spellbinders to first obtain a permit, laughed and said that the ordinance was not aimed at local talent, but that it was aimed directly at that class who advocate the overthrow of the government. The ordinance in full follows:

An ordinance regulating parades, public assemblages, public disturbances, the distribution of literature of a seditious or anarchistic nature, and use of flags emblematic of disloyalty to the government.

Passed July 5, 1921.

The common council of the city of Kingston, in pursuance of the general laws of the state and the charter of said city, do hereby ordain and enact as follows:

Section One.—No person shall distribute anywhere within the city of Kingston any bills, notices, dodgers, circulars or printed matter in any form which tend to disturb the public peace or morals, or which advise, advocate or urge the overthrow of the government of the United States or any state thereof, or of any municipal corporation therein, by the use of violence, force, or other unlawful methods; or which advise, advocate or urge the commission of any crime or any violation of law. Nor shall any person, association, committee or corporation distribute or cause to be distributed any bills, notices, dodgers, circulars or printed matter of any kind, without a written permit from the mayor, unless there is plainly printed thereon the name of the person, association, committee or corporation ordering or directing the distribution thereof.

Section Two.—No person shall participate in any parade, demonstration, public gathering or assemblage within the city, formed or called for the purpose of inciting, advising or urging the use of violence, force or the commission of any act in violation of law; or at which any of such acts or things are advocated, advised, urged or committed. Nor shall any person, exhibit or display within the city any flag, banner or device which is emblematic of any movement, plan or project tending to disturb the public peace or quiet, or cause the overthrow of the government by violence, force or other unlawful method.

Section Three.—No person shall participate in any parade, gathering, assemblage or demonstration upon any street, square, park or other place within the city to which the public are invited or have access, which parade, gathering, assemblage or demonstration has not been authorized by a written permit from the mayor.

Section Four—No person shall make or deliver a speech or address in any public place or at any public gathering or assemblage within the city, without a written permit from the mayor, who may, in the exercise of his discretion grant or refuse such permit, and who shall have authority to impose such terms and conditions in connection with any such permit as he shall deem to be advisable for the public peace and safety.

Section Five—No owner, tenant, agent or person in charge of any place, building or room shall knowingly permit therein any assemblage of persons or the doing of any act prohibited by any of the provisions of this section.

Section Six—The mayor or chief of police may revoke any such permit for any violation of the conditions thereof, and such permit shall become void upon any such violation whether so revoked or not, and the mayor may suspend such permit during an investigation as to whether any such conditions have been violated.

Section Seven.—The violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a misdemeaner.

Section Eight—This ordinance shall be published twice in each of the official papers in the city, and shall take effect immediately after the publication thereof.

HUGHES'S PEACE PLAN THOROUGH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—With the emphatic reiteration by administration officials that the rights and interests guaranteed to the United States under the Versailles treaty must be safeguarded in any plan which may be worked out for permanently settling the multitudinous questions resulting from the war with Germany, conviction grew here today that whether the plan evolved by Secretary Hughes is to bear the name of the Versailles treaty or not, much of that document will be retained.

Secretary Hughes himself has carefully refrained from public statement as to the form the convention will take, and has even declined to indicate whether negotiations with Germany will be necessary in the process of bringing about a definite settlement. Emphasis is laid, however, on the fact that congress by an overwhelming vote has registered its desire that the United States lose nothing ceded it by the Versailles pact, and the administration has heartily endorsed this view.

Every conceivable problem, it was pointed out, is provided for in the document which is the basis of the present political and economic organization of Europe.

Many of these clauses have to do with questions in which the United States is immediately and vitally interested. It provides for example, for the reimbursement of nations maintaining armies of occupation on the Rhine. Incidentally, the American share in this particular claim to date is $269,000,000.

This and many other claims must be permanently secured to the United States. The problem which has confronted Secretary Hughes is to decide upon the form of agreement best calculated to achieve that end, at the same time bearing in mind that such an instrument must be ratified by the senate.

While officials are reluctant to prophesy when the army of occupation on the Rhine will return home, it was indicated today that there should be no thought of withdrawal until Germany has agreed to a final definite settlement and has given evidence of her intention to abide by the decision. Under the terms of the treaty of Versailles the armies of occupation are on the Rhine as a sanction or guarantee of the good faith of Germany and may be retained there until the victor nations are satisfied that they need longer remain.

SERIOUS SITUATION AT TAMPICO

Mexican General Fears Result of Oil Companies Throwing Thousands Out of Work and Asserts He Will Make Them Pay Men Three Months' Wages.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 6.—General Gomez, commander of the Mexican military forces at Tampico, who came here to confer with President Obregon, said today that the Tampico situation is very grave.

Within a few days 20,000 laborers will be out of work as a result of the suspension of work by oil companies in the Tampico fields, General Gomez declared.

A report is circulated that the Standard Oil Company intends to "boycott" the Mexican government and to force smaller companies out.

The English oil companies, General Gomez said, were continuing work and were paying the government the new export tax, which some of the American companies have refused to pay.

General Gomez declared that, when he returned to Tampico he would compel the oil companies to pay discharged workmen three months' pay as provided under the laws.

Mexican officials admit that the situation is serious, but only economically and not politically, they say.

A report was current on Tuesday that five American warships were en route for Tampico. It caused much excitement but the government calmed the populace by saying it had no information that the warships were coming into Mexican waters.

There was another report that the American government had sent a new note dealing with the oil question, but this was officially denied by the foreign office.

True Humor.

In the end we find that the test of true humor is the reaction it makes to the depression, sorrow and sadness of life and its power to give brightness and courage in the midst of disaster. The joke is worth while that makes life more possible and sorrow a little less impossible—that brings a smile amid tears, as sunshine in the heart of clouds is seen cutting its way through the darkness. Yet, despite England's training in trouble, what is there finer than the delicate humor of Oliver Wendell Holmes?—Exchange.

From One Poet To Some Others.

Poets lend ears to my pleas a spell
There is one thing that I fain would know;
Something that only a poet can tell,
Whisper it softly, so sweet and low,
Vouchsafe this boon and my heart will glow
And with great joy will my bosom swell;
Prithee, this knowledge and then I go;
Oh, what on earth is a "Bosky Dell?"

You may sing low of the "darkling well,"
Even may you breathe of the "sylvan glade,"
And I can your meaning corral;
Mostly, 'Tis clear as—well, lemonade!
But there's a time when I need your aid,
When clouds of doubt you must dispell
I'm woefully ignorant, I'm afraid—
But what on earth is a "bosky dell?"

THE OFFICE CAT

By Jenius

From One Poet To Some Others.

Poets lend ears to my pleas a spell
  There is one thing that I fain would know;
Something that only a poet can tell,
  Whisper it softly, so sweet and low,
Vouchsafe this boon and my heart will glow
  And with great joy will my bosom swell;
Prithee, this knowledge and then I go;
  Oh, what on earth is a "Bosky Dell?"

You may sing low of the "darkling well,"
  Even may you breathe of the "sylvan glade,"
And I can your meaning corral;
  Mostly, 'Tis clear as—well, lemonade'
But there's a time when I need your aid,
  When clouds of doubt you must dispell
I'm woefully ignorant, I'm afraid—
  But what on earth is a "bosky dell?"

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 6, 1921.

Samuel Gompers has been elected president of the American Federation of Labor for the fortieth time in the forty-one years of its existence. Even President Diaz of Mexico did not have quite such a reign at that.

When the weather man falls down it does not jar him much; he is used to it. But the astronomers do not predict often and the failure of the Pons-Winnecke comet to perform as per announcement has left them explaining in a perceptibly agitated manner.

Unlike some of the European countries, the United States was not left by the war with an insufficiency of possible husbands. The Census Bureau makes known the surprising fact that in 1920 this country contained 2,090,132 more males than females.

French dancing masters are willing to sanction the American shimmy provided it is kept within the bounds of decorum, but how that can be done is not stated. The shimmy is African in origin, by the way. Nude-to-the-waist ladies from Congo introduced it at the Pan-American exposition nearly twenty years ago.

The State Department and the Weather Bureau persist in conflicting theories to account for the lost ships, the one stoutly holding that they were captured by pirates acting under the orders of Lenine and Trotzky, and the other insisting that the missing craft were sunk with all on board by storms. You can take you choice without paying your money.

ENGLAND AND WASHINGTON.

The monument in Trafalgar Square, the dedication of Sulgrave Manor House, and the other honors to George Washington, recently accomplished and still to come, in England are probably regarded by many Americans as mere incidents of the British policy of cultivating friendly relations with the United States. That there is much more involved is clearly indicated by the notable declaration of Viscount Bryce, when lecturing in London the other day, that in our war of the Revolution "America saved British liberties." If this be true, the English people may well give George Washington a place beside the greatest of their national heroes. Undoubtedly there is much basis for such a view, for the effort of the British to extend their liberties and limit the powers of their Teutonic monarchs was greatly forwarded by the success of the American Revolution.

It has long been known that many Englishmen engaged in this struggle looked with sympathy upon the revolt of the American Colonies, though they would have been better pleased if the liberties sought for had been attained without separation from the British empire. That the American Revolution would forward reform in Great Britain itself was the view of many Englishmen at the time, and that it actually did so has been the view of English historians since. It was inevitable that American hatred of royal tyranny should have been extended during and after the war to the English people as a whole, and that there should have been a corresponding ill feeling toward Americans in England. Nevertheless the British as well as the American people are greatly indebted to George Washington, a fact of which the recent and coming British tributes to his memory may be regarded as an entirely appropriate recognition.

PRIZE ESSAY BURGLAR.

We read of a jailed burglar who won a prize with an essay on "Americanism," and doubtless he could also have written impressively on the beauties of the moral life. Whether his facile pen shortened his term is not stated, but it is not unlikely. The fact of importance is that no sooner was he out than he returned to his unlawful trade and now he has been jailed once more. In this connection it is stated that the convicts of the Illinois State Penitentiary show a higher average intelligence than the population generally, which is not at all difficult to believe. Intelligence per se has nothing to do with morals, a trained mind by no means necessarily involving the desire, let alone the determination, to walk in the straight path. Mere intelligence is not wisdom; the latter originates in the church rather than in the school, for wisdom not only sees but loves the better way.

The notion that education is a process of reformation has received many severe jolts, but perhaps none more amusing than that imparted by this prize-essay burglar. There are unanswerable arguments in favor of popular education, but intelligence alone will not make a good citizen or a moral man, and merely increases the power of the perversely inclined and evildoers. Every observant man knows this, yet it is forgotten even by men in positions of responsibility. And so, as one example of a popular delusion, we sift the immigrants to this country by a literacy test, keeping out honest but unlettered workers while letting in professional agitators against the public peace and slick rascals of every name and order.

1. Is it a fallacy or not that 38° Fahrenheit is low enough for frost?

Frost cannot form until the temperature is at, or below, the freezing point, 32° Fahrenheit. Frost is only a form of dew, a deposit of moisture at the earth's surface, drawn partly from the air, and partly from moisture expelled by vegetation, etc. This moisture cannot be converted into frost until it freezes.

2. How may star fishes be preserved?

If the specimen has been dead a day or so, soak in formaldehyde to prevent decay, and then dry in a draughty spot. If living, or only just dead, first soak in fresh water to make the specimen plump, for several hours. Then place in formaldehyde (or alcohol). Arrange in a good position on a board and dry either in a warm oven, or in a cool place for a longer, slower treatment. Serpent starfishes need different treatment and should be soaked in gasoline instead of formaldehyde.

3. What is the chipping sparrow's nest made of?

This sparrow, Spizella passerina, also called social sparrow and chippie, builds a rather neat but slight cupshaped nest in trees, bushes, or vines, using dry grasses, with a few fine rootlets or twigs to strengthen it. It is lined with horse hairs—hence the bird's occasional name of hairbird.

4. How often does a queen bee mate? At what age?

Before beginning to lay eggs, a queen bee may make more than one nuptial flight, though she does not necessarily make but one. Authorities differ on the age—from two to ten days after hatching. Conditions of weather or food may effect individual cases. Queens begin to lay promptly after being fertilized, at an average age of eight to ten days.

5. Is the common bush rabbit in Manitoba the snaw-shoe rabbit or the cottou-tail?

As no description of the "common rabbit" was supplied, we can only guess one of the varying hares is meant, as this is a common species in the North. It (Lepus americanus) is about twice the size of the cotton-tail, and changes in color to suit the season. It does not burrow, and the cotton-tail does.

6. Do birds of different specias migrate to the same locality in the Southland?

Using "locality" in a broad sense, some species do winter approximately as neighbors, and other do not. Purple martins, cliff swallows, barn swallows, night hawks, and certain thrushes, and bobolinks, winter in Brazil. Some species stop together at Porto Rico. Others have winter homes in the far south of South America, as the arctic tern, and golden plover.

NEW WAR RISK INSURANCE RULE

New conditions under which lapsed or cancelled war risk (term) insurance may be reinstated or reinstated and converted, more liberal in scope than preceding regulations, and of great importance to former service men throughout the country, are announced by Director C. R. Forbes, of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon.

The new ruling is officially designated as "Treasury Decision 67, W. R.," effective June 30, 1921, and the feature of maximum interest to former service men is the provision that term insurance which has lapsed or has been canceled may, regardless of how long the applicant has been discharged, be reinstated, or reinstated and converted to United States government life insurance at any time prior to January 1, 1922, under conditions substantially as follows:

In all cases the applicant must tender with his application at least two months premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated or reinstated and converted. One of these premiums to cover the month of grant immediately following his lapsation and during which he was protected, and the other as the first month's premium on the insurance to be reinstated.

The applicant also must comply with the following requirements in reference to health to the satisfaction of the director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance:

When application for reinstatement and conversion is made within three calendar months after the insurance has lapsed or was canceled, including the calendar month for which the unpaid premium was due, the applicant need only make statement in his written application that he is in as good health as he was when his insurance lapsed, and no physical examination will be required.

When insurance has lasped or been canceled more than three months and yet within six calendar months, including the month for which the unpaid premium is due the reinstatement, or reinstatement and conversion, may be made provided the applicant is in good health and so states in his written application, and that he substantiates this statement by a short medical certificate, made at the applicant's expense by a reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

After the expiration of six calendar months from the date of lapsation and at any time prior to January 1, 1922, insurance may be reinstated provided that the applicant is in good health and so states in his written application, and provided further that such application is substantiated by a report of a full medical examination, made at the applicant's expense, by a reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

This regulation supersedes the previous ruling of Treasury Decision 61, which limited the time for reinstatement of insurance lapsed prior to July 1, 1920, to the period ending July 1, 1921, and fixed a time limitation for reinstatement of insurance that had lapsed or been cancelled after July 1, 1920, to a period of eighteen months.

PARKER DEFENDS TAFT.

From Editorial Implications Of Lack Of Training For Chief Justiceship.

Alton B. Parker of Esopus, former supreme court justice and one time chief justice of the court of appeals of the state of New York, in a letter written to the New York Herald, takes exception to an editorial printed in that newspaper in which it spoke lightly of the qualifications of former President William H. Taft for the office of chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Judge Parker writes:

To The New York Herald: Your editorial article of Saturday entitled "Chief Justice Taft" is so kindly in its treatment of our favorite citizen that I venture to ask you to correct the impression you seem to give that he is not adequately trained for the great position of Chief Justice of the United States. The fact is that no one of our great lawyers is better trained.

He was Solicitor-General under Harrison's Administration and argued nearly all of the great cases of the Department of Justice in the Supreme Court of the United States. And as a United States Circuit Judge he demonstrated great judicial ability, as every lawyer in the United States will testify. Nor should the fact he lost sight of that the knowledge he acquired as Governor of the Philippine islands, Secretary of War and President of the United States will prove of the greatest value to the new Chief Justice.

The Supreme Court of the United States differs from every court in this country, or in the world for that matter, because it is constantly passing upon great problems of government, and for those great tasks his equipment is of the best.

Now, that was the opinion of nearly all, if not all, of the ex-presidents of the American Bar Association in the late fall of 1916, all but two of whom attended a meeting in New York called by Senator Root, then its president, to prepare a program for the ensuing meeting of the American Bar Association.

President Wilson being about to appoint an Association Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, I proposed that we should recommend to him Judge Taft as the best qualified man in the country. Farrar of New Orleans, Judge Meldrim of Georgia, Judges Dickinson and Gregory of Cnicago, all Democrats, warmly indorsed the suggestion. A letter was prepared and signed by thirty-one of the thirty-two persons present.

In their political affiliations fifteen were Democrats, fifteen were Republicans and one supported Roosevelt in 1912. Among them were Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root and Francis Rawle. The letter was carried to the President by an ex-president, Edgar H. Farrar of New Orleans. In the offices of my firm in New York there is a photographic copy of the letter, including the signatures.

ALTON B. PARKER.

Esopus, July 5.

Y. W. H. A. OFFICERS

Installed Sunday Evening by Rabbi Beck.

On Sunday evening, June 26, about thirty-two members of the Y. W. H. A. and their friends gathered at the Hebrew school hall for the purpose of witnessing the installation of officers of this new organization.

The hall was artistically arranged with vases of flowers and blue and white streamers.

There was a short entertainment, opened by singing "America" and then a very interesting outline of the work, and how to keep the organization moving in a steadfast way was given by Miss Alto Jerusalem, in an intelligent and noteworthy manner, which greatly impressed the audience. A reading, "Changing Views" was given by Miss Sadye Avnet in such a witty manner that the audience was greatly delighted. A piano selection was played by Miss Etta Avnet with much expression and in a talented way. Lastly Rabbi Beck addressed the audience and then individually addressing the members about to be installed on their capability, he installed the following officers: President, Miss Mildred Bahl; vice-president, Miss Gladys Meyer; secretary, Miss Ethel Teloskie; treasurer, Miss Frances Jacobson.

After each officer epxressed their appreciation of being honored with such offices, the program was closed with the singing of "Hatikvoh."

Refreshments were then served and dancing was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Drowned In Catskill Creek.

John Eden, twenty-one years old, of North Bergen, N. J., was drowned Sunday afternoon in Catskill Creek near the Leeds Mills. Eighteen young people started to bathe in the creek although only three knew how to swim. Dorothy Schaeffer, sixteen years old, of North Bergen, cried for help when thirty feet from shore and Eden went to her assistance. Henry L. Mink of Brooklyn swam to aid them, reaching them when they were twelve feet from shore. As he reached them Eden sank.

FARMERS VOTE ON MARKET QUESTIONS

Farm Bureau Questionnaire Returns For New York State Show 97.3 Per Cent Favor Cooperative Selling.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 6.—New York farmers apparently are strongly in favor of cooperative marketing and the "truth in fabric" law, judging from the returns on these questions on the farm bureau federation questionnaire. This latter got a 97 per cent affirmative vote, the largest on any of the sixteen questions, and the former a 96 per cent vote.

Some 10,000 members of New York state farm bureaus filled out the questionnaire, according to a statement given out by the state farm bureau federation office here. Taking together the 38 states which have forwarded their returns to the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago, the yes vote on both these questions is even larger—99.3 per cent on each.

The state summary, of course, is of special interest to New Yorkers. The question on "Truth in Fabric Legislation" was favored by 97 per cent of returns; legislation for co-operative marketing 96 per cent in favor; 59 per cent are against the Great Lakes water way; but for the 38 states as a whole, the vote was 93 per cent yes; general sales tax stands 55 per cent in favor; 58 per cent desire to increase the limit on federal land bank mortgage loans.

The percentages on the other questions are as follows: Commodity financing based on bonded warehouse receipts, 86 per cent in favor; livestock financing, 84 per cent in favor; personal rural credit, 94 per cent in favor; 85 per cent would request that authority be granted the federal reserve board to classify rediscount; 77 per cent favor asking congress to submit constitutional amendment to states prohibiting issuance of all tax-free securities; continuance of excess profits tax won support of 75 per cent; 84 per cent said they could move more products with adequate reductions in freight rates; 94 per cent favor farm-to-market roads prior to transcontinental. 52 per cent opposition was registered against water-way development; regulation of packers received an 85 per cent positive vote while 86 per cent are in favor of legislation making illegal practice of short-selling.

"The referendum, by the diversity of questions, showed that the American Farm Bureau Federation is a national organization and not one representing a community, a county or a state," says the federation statement. "Therefore, several of the questions did not relate to subjects of vital interest to this state. It gave each one individually something to think about which in itself is of sufficient importance to justify the referendum."

Who says that "bargain" tires are what the people want

MOST everybody knows the easy-going sort of man who never takes a tire seriously until he gets a blow-out.

How long he will resist universal tire education is a question.

But this is sure—

More people are finding out every day that between leaving things to luck and getting real economy there is a big difference.

Many a car-owner has come to U. S. Tires because he couldn't afford to keep on paying that difference.

Probably seven out of ten users of U. S. Tires came to them only after they'd had enough of "discounts", "bargain offers", "clearance sales of surplus stocks" and other similar appeals.

They have found economy—and they stick to it.

They pay a net price—not "something off list" that may not mean anything in the first place.

They get fresh, live tires, being made and shipped while this message is being written.

No matter where they live there's a nearby U. S. Dealer with his nearby U. S. Factory Branch.

U. S. Tires keep moving.

No opportunity to get old and dried out. No shifting here and there trying to find a market.

Every U. S. Tire a good tire, wherever you find it anywhere in the country.

Because the U. S. policy is a good policy that serves the car-owner all the time.

Doing the very best for him that human good faith can do.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

STINNES WANTS TO QUIT POLITICS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, July 6.—Hugo Stinnes, coal king, billionaire and member of the German parliament, has been cured of politics. He is looking for an opportunity to surrender his seat in the Reichstag as gracefully and as quietly as possible, the International News Service was informed today on reliable authority. Under no circumstances will Stinnes become a candidate for re-election.

"Stinnes ist ein kind in der politik; er braucht ein regisseur," is the frequent comment voiced in the lobbies of the Reichstag. This means that Herr Stinnes is not fitted for politics. His friends pity Germany's richest man because they consider him a child in political affairs who needs a "regisseur," as movie and stage directors are called in Germany.

Stinnes's position is summed up by his friends, who ask "could you imagine J. P. Morgan having himself elected a member of congress and going to Washington to cast his vote for a new loan which the Morgan interests proposed to finance at a great profit to themselves? Or could you conceive of John D. Rockefeller so coming Congressman Rockefeller so that he could personally lead the fight for tariffs agreeable to the Standard Oil Company?"

This was the position in which Herr Stinnes placed himself when he informed the Volks Partei he intended to go into the Reichstag. Stinnes can afford to hire the best political and economical brains in Germany to guard the Stinnes interests in the German parliament. But instead of remaining behind the scenes and pulling the wires, Hugo Stinnes himself stepped out upon the political stage to be howled at by the radical galleries.

Radical newspapers consider the name of Stinnes the symbol of capitalism. Many of the French newspapers and some British newspapers have joined the Berlin radicals in dubbing any German government not controlled by Lenine and Trotzky, a "Stinnes government."

Neither vanity nor ambition was responsible for Stinnes entering the Reichstag, according to his party mates, who urged him not to enter politics. Stinnes's organizing faculties have one serious omission: his personal direction is indispensable to all his undertakings. He is educating his sons to conduct their business heritage in the same way after his death.

But Stinnes has learned by rather unpleasant experiences that in politics he must let some one else represent him; he cannot enforce his wishes by power of his presence and personal direction. Germany's economic emperor is looking for a quiet back door out of the Reichstag. Neither his party, the Volks Partei, nor the large Stinnes opposition will oppose his retirement.

FOREIGN LOANS INTEREST HOUSE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—House Republican leaders are insisting today that they are entitled to deal first with the administration's request for legislation giving it blanket authority to handle the $11,000,000,000 foreign indebtedness to the United States.

Representative Fordney, Republican, of Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee, contends that as the proposed legislation involves revenue matters, the house and his committee have a constitutional right to tackle it before it is taken up by the senate and the senate finance committee.

Fordney and other house Republican leaders resent the senate finance committee's recent action in starting hearings on the draft of the legislations submitted to the senate and house jointly by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. They have a plan under way by which the house will sandwich the Mellon legislation between the Fordney tariff bill and the new tax act they insist will come later on in the present session.

If their plans succeed, it is the belief of Fordney and his Republican associates that the Mellon plan can be disposed of by the house ways and means committee and by the house in ample time to prevent it unduly delaying the proposed legislation.

Opposition to the administration's request for blanket authority is growing, however, in the senate and house. Senate Republican leaders are fearful it may provoke considerable debate in both chambers and if an attempt is made to thrust it between tariff and tax legislation congress may become involved in a serious legislative jam which would further hamper the Republican program for tax revision yet to be worked out.

HIT BY AUTO.

Driver Left Him, Badly Hurt, Lying In Road.

James Moore was found by a passing tourist Monday night about 11:45 o'clock lying in the middle of the road about a hundred feet from Crotty's hotel at Veteran, in a serious condition. He had been struck by a passing car and the car driver did not stop to investigate. Captain Richter of Saugerties and Trooper Montgomery went to the scene of the accident in a commandeered car and brought Moore to the office of Dr. B. W. Gifford where it was found that he had his right leg broken in two places and it required several stitches to close the wounds in his head and face. Moore was then taken to the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston where the fracture was reduced. The police could not learn what car had struck Moore.

REFERENDUM OF ALL RAIL UNIONS

To Decide Course Toward Wage Cuts Must Be Finished By Sept. 1, Decide Labor Leaders—At Same Time They Will Seek Conferences With Road Executives Which May Result In Compromise.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 6.—Preparations for a referendum that amounts virtually to a strike vote of the 1,500,000 railway employes of the country were being made today. The referendum will decide the attitude of the workers toward wage reductions that became effective July 1. It must be completed by September 1.

Taking of the referendum was decided upon by leaders of the railway employes' organizations at a conference here. In announcing the plan the union chiefs declared they "did not assume responsibility for wage reductions."

Possibility of a settlement of the controversy before the referendum is completed, however, is seen in the announcement of the union leaders that conferences will be sought with the officials of the railroads. If such conferences are held and a compromise proposition results these agreements will be submitted to the workers for their approval.

It was indicated by union leaders that the chief object of the conferences is to place the railway officials on record as to their attitude toward further wage cuts or changes in the working agreements. Working rules, it was made clear, are regarded as an issue fully as important as the wage question.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES.

"The Hawk" Appeals to Crooks to Return Donaldson Jewels.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Bent on proving to the world that there is gratitude as well as honor among thieves, James Curran, alias Jimmy the Trusty, and "The Hawk," today appealed through the newspapers for the return of the jewels valued ta $35,000 stolen from Mrs. W. H. Donaldson two weeks ago on a railroad train. Curran bases his plea on the fact that Mr. Donaldson, who is well known as publisher of a theatrical magazine, has done much to assist former convicts on the road to success. Said Curran:

"I know that Mr. Donaldson has been a factor in aiding men paroled from prison to re-establish themselves. I therefore plead with the underworld at large to aid me in locating and arranging for the return of the jewels. I want to substantiate my claim that there is honor among thieves and that all of them can be reached through sentiment when they cannot through the law."

Curran, whose activities as a confidence man were well known to the police at one time, is certain that his appeal to the hearts of his former associates, plus the $4,000 reward offered for the return of the jewels, will bear fruit.

CARPENTIER GUEST

At Dinner Where He Praises American Fans and Dempsey.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6—American boxing fans and fistic critics have made a favorable and lasting impression on Georges Carpentier.

Carpentier was the guest of honor at a dinner last night at which a score of visiting British and French sporting writers sat around the table with members of the American press as the guests of James Wright Brown, proprietor of the Editor and Publisher.

Toasts and speeches lauding Carpentier and looking toward the promotion of closer international relations in sports featured the dinner. Carpentier told the newspaper men that he has no excuse to offer for his defeat; that he was defeated by the best fighter in the world and that he drank to the health of Jack Dempsey.

The victims were dragged from their beds by armed, masked men and killed near their homes. Newry is near Belfast. There has been no formal armistice, but it was understood that both sides would voluntarily refrain from hostilities pending the outcome of the present peace negotiations.

PROPER APPLIES FOR BUS PERMIT

Charles Proper Makes Another Application to Operate a Bus Line, and His Petition is Referred to a Public Hearing, July 19.

Charles Proper, who has applied to the common council several times for a permit to operate a bus line from Rosendale to Kingston and been turned down each time, bobbed up again at the regular monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening with a petition requesting permission to operate a bus line from Lawrenceville to Rosendale to Bloomington to Creek Locks back to Bloomington to Greenkill avenue to Broadway to the Strand.

Alderman Roosa of the Second ward moved that the petition be dismissed as it asked to stop at Broadway and the Strand and there was no terminal there.

Alderman Martin objected and said that it was probably a clerical error on the part of Frank W. Brooks, who appeared for Mr. Proper, and that Mr. Brooks be given an opportunity to speak.

Mr. Brooks said that under the law the petitioner was entitled to amend his petition in case that there had been a clerical error, and that the word Strand covered a lot of territory. He had since learned that the bus terminal was in the Arcade on the Strand, and said that when the matter came up for a hearing he would ask to have the petition amended to include the terminal.

President Dittus instructed City Clerk Doremus to amend the petition so that instead of reading Broadway and Strand it read the bus terminal on the Strand.

Alderman Roosa then moved that it be referred to the bus committee to hold a public hearing July 19, which was adopted.

FRESH MUSHROOMS UP TO DATE.

We may now begin to look in the fields and pastures for the delicious mushrooms. The following are a few of the delectable dishes which may be prepared with them:

Stuffed Mushrooms—Take the even sized mushrooms, remove the stems, peel the caps and fill a mushroom cap with chopped chicken, beef tongue, truffles and cream, either of the meats or both. Butter a pan and set the stuffed mushrooms therein; cover with a mushroom of the same size, add a little lemon juice, a dash of orange juice and cover, then cook in a slow oven for 12 minutes. Serve on toast. To the juice in the pan add a little meat glace, a pinch of minced parsley, and pour over the mushrooms.

Mushrooms Eugenie.—Chop one-half pound of fresh peeled mushrooms; put into a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of butter and let them stew over a slow fire; the stems from half a pound of mushrooms may be used economically, using the caps by sauteing them in butter, and dish them up on squares of bread fried in butter. To the chopped mushrooms now add one-fourth cupful of white sauce and one-half cupful cream; season with salt, paprica, and pour around the mushrooms.

Mushrooms Manhattan.—Cut six or eight good-sized mushrooms in squares and cook them in butter; add three ounces of well cleaned oyster crabs; when nearly cooked add a quarter of a cup of white sauce, a dash of fruit juice and the yolks of two eggs; season highly and put a tablespoonful of mixture into china ramekins and fill with the following: To a pint of puree of mushrooms add the whites of three eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Cook six to eight minutes in a moderate oven. To prepare the mushrooms chop them, cook in butter, add cream, add egg to bind, season to taste.

Jelliade.—Dissolve two glasses of jelly in three pints of boiling water; when cold add the juice of a lemon and sugar, if needed.

This automobile was struck by a passenger train at the crossing shown, where the usual safety rules were not observed by the driver. One occupant was killed and four others were permanently injured

Because of the astounding increase of automobile accidents at railroad crossings this year, the Pennsylvania Railroad, through its Safety First Department, is making a special effort to curb these unusually fatal accidents. Throughout the entire Pennsylvania system, wherever its tracks are laid, observers are on the lookout for careless motorists who persist in taking chances. They take the number of the automobile, and in a day or so Mr. Motorist receives one of the above postcards. It is a gentle reminder and warning which he is not apt to forget, and by this means the railroad expects to save many lives.

Injured in Auto Accident.

Their wives escaped injury. Dr. E. B. The State Department and the Weather Bureau persist in conflicting theories to account for the lost ships, the one stoutly holding that they were captured by pirates acting under the orders of Lenine and Trotzky, and the other insisting that the missing craft were sunk with all on board by storms. ENGLAND AND WASHINGTON.

The monument in Trafalgar Square, the dedication of Sulgrave Manor House, and the other honors to George Washington, recently accomplished and still to come, in England are probably regarded by many Americans as mere incidents of the British policy of cultivating friendly relations with the United States. That there is much more involved is clearly indicated by the notable declaration of Viscount Bryce, when lecturing in London the other day, that in our war of the Revolution "America saved British liberties." If this be true, the English people may well give George Washington a place beside the greatest of their national heroes. Undoubtedly there is much basis for such a view, for the effort of the British to extend their liberties and limit the powers of their Teutonic monarchs was greatly forwarded by the success of the American Revolution.

It has long been known that many Englishmen engaged in this struggle looked with sympathy upon the revolt of the American Colonies, though they would have been better pleased if the liberties sought for had been attained without separation from the British empire. That the American Revolution would forward reform in Great Britain itself was the view of many Englishmen at the time, and that it actually did so has been the view of English historians since. It was inevitable that American hatred of royal tyranny should have been engendered during and after the war to the English people as a whole, and that there should have been a corresponding ill feeling toward Americans in England. Nevertheless the British as well as the American people are greatly indebted to George Washington, a fact of which the recent and coming British tributes to his memory may be regarded as an entirely appropriate recognition.

PRIZE ESSAY BURGLAR.

We read of a jailed burglar who won a prize with an essay on "Americanism," and doubtless he could also have written impressively on the evolution of the moral life. Whether his facile pen shortened his term is not stated, but it is not unlikely. The fact of importance is that no sooner was he out than he returned to his unlawful trade and now he has been jailed once more. In this connection it is stated that the convicts of the Illinois State Penitentiary show a higher average intelligence than the population generally, which is not at all difficult to believe. Intelligence per se has nothing to do with morals. A trained mind by no means necessarily involving the desire, let alone the determination, to walk in the straight path. More intelligence is not wisdom; the latter originates in the church rather than in the school, for wisdom not only sees but loves the better way.

The notion that education is a process of reformation has received many severe jolts, but perhaps none more amusing than that imparted by this prize-essay burglar. There are unanswerable arguments in favor of popular education, but intelligence alone will not make a good citizen or a moral man, and merely increases the power of the perversely inclined and evildoers. Every observant man knows this, yet it is forgotten even by men in positions of responsibility. And so, as one example of a popular delusion, we sift the immigrants to this country by a literacy test, keeping out honest but unlettered workers while letting in professional agitators against the public peace and slick rascals of every name and order.

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Is it a fallacy or not that 38° Fahrenheit is low enough for frost?

Frost cannot form until the temperature is at, or below, the freezing point, 32° Fahrenheit. Frost is only a form of dew, a deposit of moisture at the earth's surface, drawn partly from the air, and partly from moisture expelled by vegetation, etc. This moisture cannot be converted into frost until it freezes.

2. How may star fishes be preserved?

If the specimen has been dead a day or so, soak in formaldehyde to prevent decay, and then dry in a draughty spot. If living, or only just dead, first soak in fresh water to make the specimen plump, for several hours. Then place in formaldehyde (or alcohol). Arrange in a good position on a board and dry either in a warm oven, or in a cool place for a longer, slower treatment. Serpent starfishes need different treatment and should be soaked in gasoline instead of formaldehyde.

3. What is the chipping sparrow's nest made of?

This sparrow, Spizella passerina, also called social sparrow and chippie, builds a rather neat but slight cupshaped nest in trees, bushes, or vines, using dry grasses, with a few fine rootlets or twigs to strengthen it. It is lined with horse hairs—hence the bird's occasional name of hairbird.

4. How often does a queen bee mate? At what age?

Before beginning to lay eggs, a queen bee may make more than one nuptial flight, though she does not necessarily make but one. Authorities differ on the age—from two to ten days after hatching. Conditions of weather or food may effect individual cases. Queens begin to lay promptly after being fertilized, at an average age of eight to ten days.

5. Is the common bush rabbit in Manitoba the snaw-shoe rabbit or the cotton-tail?

As no description of the "common rabbit" was supplied, we can only guess one of the varying hares is meant, as this is a common species in the North. It (Lepus americanus) is about twice the size of the cotton-tail, and changes in color to suit the season. It does not burrow, and the cotton-tail does.

6. Do birds of different species migrate to the same locality in the Southland?

Using "locality" in a broad sense, some species do winter approximately as neighbors, and other do not. Purple martins, cliff swallows, barn swallows, night hawks, and certain thrushes, and bobolinks, winter in Brazil. Some species stop together at Porto Rico. Others have winter homes in the far south of South America, as the arctic tern, and golden plover.

WHEN A STREET IS NOT A STREET

It's Not the First Cost of a Building Lot But the Last That Stings the Purchaser—Some Real Estate Transactions Discussed by the City Fathers.

Alderman Roosa, of the Second ward, Tuesday evening raised a question as to whether the city authorities did not have the power of forbidding any one to take up a vacant plot of ground and lay it out in building lots without first getting in touch with the city authorities and filing a map of the proposed streets to be laid out. He said that in the past, and undoubtedly in the future, some out of town concern would come to Kingston, buy up an attractive building plot, lay it out in small building lots, hire a brass band and a good speaker and sell the lots off to the public for building purposes.

Where the objection arose, according to the alderman from the Second ward, the new owners sometimes bought with the belief that the city would lay out the street, place it at grade and extend sewer and water pipes through the street. In this they were mistaken, and very often a lot that originally cost but $50 would cost $500 by the time improvements were made.

To prevent purchasers from being stung he thought that if there was not an ordinance covering that, one should be drawn and adopted.

Can't Be Done, Says Mayor.

Mayor Canfield, who was present, said that he did not see how Alderman Roosa's suggestion could be carried out. A man who owned a plot of ground had a right to lay it out in building lots, and also lay out any roadways on the property he desired, but it should be understood that they were roadways and not streets.

A street did not become a street until it was accepted by the board of public works.

The mayor said that several years ago he had introduced an ordinance providing for a city planning commission, and his suggestion would be to resurrect that old ordinance, and if it could not be found to have a new one framed.

Macholdt's Experience.

Alderman Macholdt said that he thought the mayor's idea a good one as he had had a little experience of his own with his own house. When he had built the house it stood above the roadway, but since then the grade had been changed at least three times and he was now several inches below the street level as a result.

"Public Should Be Warned."

Several of the other aldermen took part in the discussion and it was brought out by Alderman Myers that on Albany avenue near the Stewart farm the sewer was only three feet below the surface, and it would not be possible to make connections with the sewer if any building lots were sold from that tract. The only relief those who built could obtain would be when the city, if ever, built a new trunk line sewer.

Alderman Martin said the people of Mapleton had the same experience.

The trouble was that there were too many suburbs in the city according to some of the aldermen, and the discussion was brought to a close.

The moral—be sure before purchasing a building lot that the street is improved or ascertain when it will be and the probable cost.

AGRIGRAPHS.

If the granaries are not clean and ready for the new crop, making them so is a good rainy day job.

Uncle Ab says: Call it business, science or common sense, but use it in selling crops as well as raising them.

Artificial shade in the pastures, if nature has furnished none, will pay in increased thrift of the livestock.

Buckwheat is a poor land crop. Have you the State Agricultural College buckwheat bulletin? Send to Ithaca for F 110.

Over-ripe hay like over-ripe fruit isn't the best. Cut at the right time. And have you tried hay caps to help in curing?

One reason some young folks do not go back to the farm may be because they have to travel over such poor roads to get there.

"The most efficient manufacturers of the most perfect food" is the caption under a picture of a herd of pure bred Tioga County Holsteins.

Agriculture is the backbone of the nation and it's a backbone made up of at least three vertebrae—a fertile soil, an active brain and an active body.

PENALTY POSSIBLE

For Those Who Refuse Home Census Information.

The census bureau is now in the midst of an investigation to ascertain the amount of the encumbrances on homes. This inquiry is made in compliance with the requirements of the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1919. It is desired to show the total number of homes in each city that are rented, the number that are owned free of mortgage, the number that are subject to mortgage indebtedness and the amount of such indebtedness. Schedules of inquiry calling for this information have been sent to all of the persons reported in this city as owning homes subject to mortgage, but unfortunately, a large number of the citizens have not replied to the official request. Two requests have already been sent and a third request is now about to be mailed. The law providing for this inquiry contains a penalty for refusal to furnish the information. Replies will be treated as strictly confidential.

Peak of the Load

It comes at the breakfast, luncheon and dinner hour. The demand is sudden, tremendous.

"Peak of the load," says the gas engineer. "What a convenience," comments the housewife. And both refer to the biggest service problem in the public utility business.

To get gas service when, where, and how you want it without warning, without telephoning for it, means that we must have "peak of the load" equipment to meet "peak of the load" demands.

This equipment is costly It takes a lot of money to keep it in good condition, ready at all times to serve you. And the maximum number of men must be employed to operate it whether the call comes or not.

Vital things, these. And they must be paid for if you are to get the gas service you demand, in the way you demand it.

Think it over.

HOW IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD RUINS A WOMAN'S HEALTH—

AND MAY MAKE HER WRINKLED, AGED AND CAREWORN, GIVING HER A PALE, HAGGARD, SICKLY APPEARANCE

For want of iron you may practically be an old woman at from 30 to 35, weak, downhearted and "all fagged out." You may be in such a highly nervous irritable state that you "go all to pieces" on the slightest provocation, while at 50 or 60 with good health and plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling and so attractive and full of life as to defy detection of your real age.

It's not always the youngest woman that is most sought after—there is an indescribably alluring fascination in the rosy cheek, the inviting lips and sparkling eyes of a blood filled with iron. You may be afflicted with iron starvation of the blood and not know it, just as thousands of other women are.

It is said that about one person in three in America today suffers more or less from malnutrition—lack of nourishment, which is caused not by lack of food, but in many cases, by lack of sufficient iron in the blood to enable you to get the strength and nourishment out of your food.

Indoor life, over-eating and modern methods of cookery are sapping the iron from the blood of hundreds of thousands of women. Our forefathers, to whom history refers as a nation of red blooded Americans, ate the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and other coarse foods rich in strength giving ore iron, which the modern woman does not g

PARESIS TO BE KABER DEFENSE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Court House, Cleveland, Ohio, July 6.—Who was the "fiend," the "brains," that engineered the plot to murder Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher.

Not his widow, Mrs. Catherlin Eva Kaber, the wan, dark woman who sits in the court room here with eyes closed and as emotionless as a statue, according to the defense, but a 69 year old woman confined in the detention house, a pathetic wrinkled old creature who invokes curses on Mrs. Kaber, her own daughter.

A battle between mother and daughter, each willing to send the other to the electric chair by her testimony.

"She dragged me into this. She made me wash and slave for her so she could tell Dan Kaber others did it and collect pin money from him," says the mother.

"Mrs. Kaber, her brain diseased, weak and helpless, was the victim of her mother's machinations," the defense will claim, it was learned today.

"Paretic brain" will be the unusual line of defense put forth to save the so-called "murder queen."

Between the death chair and the alternative of spending the rest of her life in a hospital for the insane, she chooses the former.

"I will take a chance with death," she is said to have informed her attorneys tabooing a move contemplated by them to have her declared insane.

Alienists will testify that she is suffering from a form of paresis, which renders her irresponsible at times. This brain disease, it will be claimed, is a result of the degenerate acts of Kaber, the murdered man. Baring her soul and all the sordid life on the witness stand, the accused woman will paint Kaber, who was one of Cleveland's most prominent business men as a degenerate of the vilest type.

She will claim that in mortal terror of her life by his threats and distracted by the abuses practiced on her, she sought fortune tellers to use their "psychic powers' and Mrs. Erminia Colavito, the "poison queen" to use "black magic" not to kill Kaber, but to cure him of his "bad habits."

Today, if a jury is empanelled, Moses Kaber, the slain man's 73 year old father, will face his daughter-in-law from the witness stand. He will be the first witness called by the state, according to present plans.

The little old man who has sat in the court room and kept his eyes constantly on the woman charged with his son's murder since the trial began and for two years had her trailed, a silent waiting nemesis said today he seeks only justice.

"For two years I spent sleepless nights and thousands of dollars to trail my son's slayer," he said. "I do not want vengeance. All I ask is justice. I will accept the jury's verdict and, if she is freed, she can have my son's property."

As soon as the jury is empanelled it will be taken to the "murder mansion" to review the room where Kaber was slain by the stiletto of Vittoria Pissilli, a hired assassin. The "murder mansion" as the scene of the tragedy has become known in Cleveland, is a beautiful house with white classic columns, situated in Lakewood, a beautiful suburb. If the accused woman is freed, she will inherit the "murder mansion."

No New Note to Mexico.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Reports which have gained some currency in Mexico City that the United States has dispatched a new note to the Mexican government were denied today at the state department. It was stated officially that there has been no communication dispatched to Mexico City and that the "Mexican situation is unchanged." Neither has there been any decision, it was said, regarding protest lodged with the state department by American oil producers in Mexico against the imposition of the additional 25 per cent export tax by President Obregon.

ONLY IGNORANT JAPS TALK WAR

Says Tokio University Professor, Here To Talk On Limitation Of Armaments, For Which Sentiment Is Growing In Orient.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Thinking people of Japan give no heed to talk of possible war between the United States and Japan, according to Prof. Shigeo Suyehiro of Kyoto Imperial University, Tokio, who is here today consulting with leading American statesmen on the subject of limitation of armaments.

There is war talk in Japan, just as there is the United States, Prof. Suyehiro said today, but this he attributes to a "minority of those who have imperialistic plans for the development of national power."

The great majority of the Japanese people are progressive and realize that peaceful negotiation is far more effective than war, the professor stated.

Anti-American feeling exists in Japan, the educator admitted, but he refuses to consider this as permanent or a matter which can be given concern in considering the possible trend of relations between the two sections. The antagonism towards the United States in Japan exists largely among the masses, but is a temporary feeling and has been brought about by the Yap controversy and the California land laws.

Much of the misunderstanding which now exists between the United States and Japan could be wiped out by closer contact, the professor believes.

Popular sentiment towards limitation of armament is growing apace in the Oriental empire, the professor declared, and it is being supported by the largest business interests.

"National organizations, such as chambers of commerce, which are much more influential in Japan than in America, approve the movement," he stated.

While in the United States Prof. Suyehiro will seek to impress the desire of Japan for a speedy disarmament conference and that such a conference be held publicly.

James A. Stillman, the central figure in the now famous Stillman divorce case, finally consented to face the camera. He was somewhat glum about it, but stood the ordeal gamely. The photograph was made at Poughkeepsie, where two days of questioning brought from him the stereotyped reply that to answer truthfully would incriminate him.

Arrangements were also made for the church fair, which is to be held on the church grounds on Wednesday evening, July 13, if very stormy the next evening. Any fancy articles donated to any of the members of the Girls' Club for the fair will be greatfully received.

Dempsey Denies Marriage Story.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 6.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, arrived here today "homeward bound." The champion is en route to visit his mother in Salt Lake City. Jack made three definite statements to reporters here. He declared he would not meet Carpentier again; expressed a willingness to fight Jess Willard and absolutely denied that he intends getting married.

FIND NO GOOD IN FORDNEY TARIFF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Democratic leaders in the house will present no tariff revision bill as a substitute for the Fordney bill which is to be taken up for consideration tomorrow, it was decided today.

The minority leaders take the position that the present Underwood tariff law, a Democratic tariff-for-revenue-only measure is as sound now and as sufficient as when enacted in 1913 and that changes to it are unnecessary and unwise. Standing squarely upon this law they will devote themselves to broadside attacks on the Fordney bill as unsound.

Formal defense of the attack on the bill came today from the Republican and Democratic members of the ways and means committee in reports on the proposed legislation filed with the house by Chairman Fordney and representative Garner, who, in the absence of Representative Kitchen, is the ranking democratic member of the committee. Besides the reports there are minority Republican attacks on sections of the bill from representative Frear, Wisconsin; Young, North Dakota, and Green, Iowa. Other Republicans members of the committee are expected to launch some criticisms of various rates. If they should fail in their efforts to bring about a change in the bill they are expected as good Republicans to swallow their disappointment and march along peacefully with the majority to a final vote in favor of the bill.

Chairman Fordney expects to get the bill before the house tomorrow.

$175,000 IN GEMS STOLEN ON TRAIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—The theft of $175,000 worth of diamonds on a Pennsylvania railroad train between this city and Trenton, N. J., was reported to the police today by Joseph Haskell, a jewel merchant of 65 Maiden Lane.

After reporting the theft to the railroad police Haskell returned to New York to advise the local authorities of his loss. Then he returned post haste to Trenton to take up the trail there.

Haskell, who lives at the Continental Hotel, was on his way to Pittsburgh, the first stop in a selling trip through the middle west. The diamonds were loose and were carried in a small hand bag.

He said that after boarding a train at the Pennsylvania station he handed his suit case and the hand bag to a porter to put under his seat while he stood on the train shed platform smoking a cigar. He went to the smoking car when the train pulled out and it was not until Trenton was reached that he thought to reassure himself that the precious stones were safe. He reached under the seat and found the hand bag gone. The porter said he had seen no one taking anything from the seat.

Haskell continued to Philadelphia where he notified the railroad police. He said he thought that the bag had been stolen by some one leaving the train at Trenton. From Philadelphia he hurried back to New York and after giving a description of the gems left to assist the authodities at Trenton.

Mrs. E. L. Buchanan, the young widow of Captain E. L. Buchanan, Assistant Irrigation Officer, who was killed in the riots in Mesopotamia nine months ago, came through danger of death and worse and suffered a painful imprisonment of some weeks in the harem of Sheik Majid before she was rescued by a British Relief Column, under Brigadier-General F. E. Convngham. The story of her experiences at Sharaban during the rising is a thrilling story of British bravery and calm resolution in defiance of terrible odds and reflects the wonderful courage of the woman who stood by her husband during the siege of the Qushlah and, to use her own words, "put up a fight of our own," when the Arabs managed to enter the building. Her husband was killed, and she was carried off.

PUPILS' RECITAL FOR PUPILS

Given Tuesday Afternoon at Mrs. Hayes's Studio.

On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock a very pleasing and excellent piano recital was given by Miss Mildred Ostrander, pupil of Mrs. Asenath Hayes, at Mrs. Hayes's studio on Green street. She was assisted by Ruby Almfelt, Ella May Tubble, Margaret Wilson, all piano students, and Miss Almfelt also gave readings. It is Mrs. Hayes's custom to require that her pupils shall from time to time give recitals before the other students of their respective grades, and this recital was one such. Most of the numbers, admirably played, were given from memory, the composers represented on the program being Spalding, Behrens, Kinroff, Behr, Beethoven, Mozart and Missa. Another pleasing and instructive feature of the afternoon was a short talk given by Mrs. Hayes on the history of the piano forte and its ancestors, the well-tempered clavichord, the virginal and the spinet. The student giving the recital is privileged to invite her friends, and at the close of the well rendered program Mrs. Hayes served light but delicious refreshments.

Wise Laws of the Ancients.

The Licinian law, effective 275 B. C., forbade anyone to own more than 500 acres of land and more than 100 large cattle, or 500 small animals. Another law of the same name, 56 B. C., imposed a heavy penalty on those who organized clubs for massing power at an election, while another law, 103 B. C., limited the funds one might expend for supplying his table.

DEMPSEY LEAVES EAST AND TROUBLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Uneasy is the heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey. His life, of late, has been just one thing or another. Rumors, counter rumors, subpoena servers and what-nots have been on his trail.

Now the reformers are after him. Officers of the international Reform Bureau aim to have the champion put under arrest on charges of violating the prize fight section of the Criles act of New Jersey. Unless Dempsey appears in the court of General Sessions in Jersey City today the reformers say they will seek warrants for the arrest and arraignment of some of the highest officials of the state. They may even attempt to bring about action looking toward the impeachment of Governor Edwards.

Meanwhile Dempsey has left the reformers flat. The champion took a sudden notion to go west and according to his manager, Jack Kearns, he is on his way to Salt Lake City today accompanied by his trainer, Teddy Hayes. Kearns will remain in New York to protect his interests and those of the champion in a suit for damages brought by one Frank Spellman, who is suing Dempsey for $100,000 and Kearns for a like sum, alleging violation of a moving picture agreement. Spellman yesterday attached the champion's $15,000 limousine.

Cars in Jam.

One of the tank trucks of the Texaco Oil Company and an Overland touring car had a brush at the corner of Wall street and North Front street this morning. No damage was done. The Overland coming close behind the truck was unable to stop and ran into the rear of the truck. A scratched mud guard was the only damage.

OIL MEN DENY MEXICAN BOYCOTT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Standard Oil officials today emphatically denied that their company is boycotting the Mexican government, or trying to force smaller companies out, as stated today in Mexico City despatches.

From well-informed sources it was learned in common with the other American producers of petroleum in Mexico, the Standard Oil officials simply feel that in levying an export tax of approximately forty five cents per barrel on crude oil, the Mexican government has raised an insurmountable economic barrier.

"The only thing happening in Mexico at the present time is the natural result of imposing larger taxes than the oil business can bear," said Guy Stevens, head of the association of producers of petroleum in Mexico. "Practically every company has found it impossible to market oil at a price that will stand the taxes."

QUASHES CHARGES AGAINST HAEBERLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Hoboken, N. J., July 6.—United States Commissioner Edward R. Stanton today dismissed charges of conspiracy and false arrest against Armenius T. Haeberle, United States consul at Rio Janeiro, and Archibald Price, an American ship chandler at Rio Janeiro, who was arrested on board the Martha Washington last week. The charges had been brought by Captain William H. Chambliss, former master of the U. S. Shipping Board steamer Lake Elkwood. Chambliss had alleged further that as the result of a conspiracy against him, he was illegally relieved of his ship at Rio Janeiro. At the time of the incident Haeberle was the representative of the U. S. Shipping Board. The commissioner's action followed a statement by Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick Pearse, of Newark, N. J., that the state department, the department of justice and the shipping board had investigated the charges and found them baseless. Chambliss said he had communicated with President Harding and Secretary Hughes questioning the right of a consular officer to plead immunity from arrest as Haeberle did last week.

UNIONS PROTEST

Against Trials of Defendants Outside Own Districts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and other organized labor leaders today lodged a protest with Attorney General Daugherty against a bill now before congress, providing for trials of defendants outside of their domiciles.

The bill now before the house judiciary committee was referred to Attorney General Daugherty for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The attorney general in hearings today gave labor leaders a chance to present their arguments.

The explanation which would radically change present court procedure, grows out of the fight of 226 defendants in the coal conspiracy cases. Defendants in these cases are fighting removal to Indianapolis for trial before Federal Judge Anderson, in whose court the indictments were returned. Their bills attacking the constitutionality of the removal procedure of the department of justice have been filed in five different states.

NEW WAR RISK INSURANCE RULE

New conditions under which lapsed or cancelled war risk (term) insurance may be reinstated or reinstated and converted, more liberal in scope than preceding regulations, and of great importance to former service men throughout the country, are announced by Director C. R. Forbes, of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon.

The new ruling is officially designated as "Treasury Decision 67, W. R.," effective June 30, 1921, and the feature of maximum interest to former service men is the provision that term insurance which has lapsed or has been canceled may, regardless of how long the applicant has been discharged, be reinstated, or reinstated and converted to United States government life insurance at any time prior to January 1, 1922, under conditions substantially as follows:

In all cases the applicant must tender with his application at least two months premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated or reinstated and converted. One of these premiums to cover the month of grant immediately following his lapsation and during which he was protected, and the other as the first month's premium on the insurance to be reinstated.

The applicant also must comply with the following requirements in reference to health to the satisfaction of the director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance:

When application for reinstatement and conversion is made within three calendar months after the insurance has lapsed or was canceled, including the calendar month for which the unpaid premium was due, the applicant need only make statement in his written application that he is in as good health as he was when his insurance lapsed, and no physical examination will be required.

When insurance has lasped or been canceled more than three months and yet within six calendar months, including the month for which the unpaid premium is due the reinstatement, or reinstatement and conversion, may be made provided the applicant is in good health and so states in his written application, and that he substantiates this statement by a short medical certificate, made at the applicant's expense by a reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

After the expiration of six calendar months from the date of lapsation and at any time prior to January 1, 1922, insurance may be reinstated provided that the applicant is in good health and so states in his written application, and provided further that such application is substantiated by a report of a full medical examination, made at the applicant's expense, by a reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

This regulation supersedes the previous ruling of Treasury Decision 61, which limited the time for reinstatement of insurance lapsed prior to July 1, 1920, to the period ending July 1, 1921, and fixed a time limitation for reinstatement of insurance that had lapsed or been cancelled after July 1, 1920, to a period of eighteen months.

PARKER DEFENDS TAFT.

From Editorial Implications Of Lack Of Training For Chief Justiceship.

Alton B. Parker of Esopus, former supreme court justice and one time chief justice of the court of appeals of the state of New York, in a letter written to the New York Herald, takes exception to an editorial printed in that newspaper in which it spoke lightly of the qualifications of former President William H. Taft for the office of chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Judge Parker writes:

To The New York Herald: Your editorial article of Saturday entitled "Chief Justice Taft" is so kindly in its treatment of our favorite citizen that I venture to ask you to correct the impression you seem to give that he is not adequately trained for the great position of Chief Justice of the United States. The fact is that no one of our great lawyers is better trained

He was Solicitor-General under Harrison's Administration and argued nearly all of the great cases of the Department of Justice in the Supreme Court of the United States. And as a United States Circuit Judge he demonstrated great judicial ability, as every lawyer in the United States will testify. Nor should the fact be lost sight of that the knowledge he acquired as Governor of the Philippine Islands, Secretary of War and President of the United States will prove of the greatest value to the new Chief Justice.

The Supreme Court of the United States differs from every court in this country, or in the world for that matter, because it is constantly passing upon great problems of government, and for those great tasks his equipment is of the best.

Now, that was the opinion of nearly all, if not all, of the ex-presidents of the American Bar Association in the late fall of 1916, all but two of whom attended a meeting in New York called by Senator Root, then as president, to prepare a program for the ensuing meeting of the American Bar Association

President Wilson being about to appoint an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, I proposed that we should recommend to him Judge Taft as the best qualified man in the country. Former of New Orleans, Judge Meldrim of Georgia, Judge Dickinson and Giesers of Chicago, all Democrats, warmly indorsed the suggestion. A letter was prepared and signed by thirty-one of the thirty-two persons present

In their political affiliations fifteen were Democrats, fifteen were Republicans and one supported Roosevelt in 1912. Among them were Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root and Francis Lynde. The letter was carried to the President by an ex-President, Elihu Root, Former of New Orleans. In the office of no firm in New York there is a photographer copy of the letter, including the signatures

Installed Tuesday Evening by Rabbi Berk.

On Sunday evening June 26, about thirty-two members of the Y. W. H. A. and their friends gathered at the Hebrew school for the purpose of witnessing the installation of officers of the new organization.

The hall was artistically arranged with vases of flowers and blue and white streamers.

There was a short entertainment, opened by singing "America" and then a very interesting outline of the work, and how to keep the organization moving in a steadfast way was given by Miss Alta Jerusalem, in an intelligent and noteworthy manner, which greatly impressed the audience. A reading "Chanzana Alexa" was given by Miss Sadye Ansel in such a witty manner that the audience was greatly delighted. A piano selection was played by Miss Etta Ansel with much expression and in a talented way. Lastly Rabbi Berk addressed the audience and then individually addressing the members about to be installed on their responsibilities, he installed the following officers, President, Miss Mildred Rahl; vice-president, Miss Gladys Meyer; secretary, Miss Ethel Tolnskie; treasurer, Miss Frances Jacobson.

After each officer expressed their appreciation of being honored with such offices, the program was closed with the singing of "Hatikvoh."

Refreshments were then served and dancing was greatly enjoyed by all present.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 6.—The Republic Iron and Steel Company, one of the large independents, today put in force a new price schedule that matches the reduction announced by the Bethlehem Steel Company. It was unofficially reported in steel circles here today that the independents of the Pittsburgh district will make further price reductions in steel quotations and labor wages in a few days. None of the steel makers would announce just what these reductions would be. It was generally accepted here that the United States Steel corporation would soon announce a cut in prices and wages to meet the competition of the big and little independents, but there was no official statement to be obtained here.

ROSCOE SAVED

From Ice Creamless 4th By Special Auto Trip From Here.

Somebody ought to write a poem along the lines of "Sheridan's Ride" describing the whirlwin relief expedition that one of the Archie Winter Express Company's trucks made on the Fourth to carry a supply of ice cream to the perishing people of Roscoe, Sullivan County. The cream had been shipped from Albany too late to go out on the O. & W. train. Roscoe people were famishing and the goods were perishable. Relief was arranged by telephone messenger and the expedition was off on a journey of 65 miles. The goods were delivered on time and Roscoe was saved from an ice creamless holiday. Incidentally the local express company didn't lose any money.

MILK DRIVERS STRIKE.

And Bronx Families In Thousands Get No Milk.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—More than 50,000 families in the Bronx found that their morning milk had not been delivered today as a result of a strike of 158 drivers for the Sheffield Farms-Slawson-Decker Milk Company.

The strike, which is not sanctioned by the officials of the union, was caused, it is thought, by the refusal of an "extra driver" to accept the milk company's refusal to pay him for more than four days' work per week, unless he actually worked the extra time. "Extras" are guaranteed four days' work per week.

President Sterbinsky of the union declared that the strike is due to the workings of a "radical" clique.

NO LOWER TAXES

May be Expected This Year From Congress.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Hope for tax revision in time to lighten the burden on the earnings of 1921 practically fled today. Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair stated that unless congress speeds up the enactment of revision it will be impossible to force its operation during 1921. This means that the American people will pay the same rate of federal taxes for the present year that they did last year.

Secretary Mellon is understood to hold the same view, and to have notified members of congress to this effect.

Commissioner Blair said that business generally is proceeding on the basis of the 1921 taxation and that any eleventh hour revision would entain confusion in industrial and commercial lines.

SONG AND COAL EXPERTS HEARD

At Weekly Rotary Luncheon—No Wonder Dempsey Didn't Feel Punishment, Says Carr In Describing Fight—Blow That Just Missed Would Have Ended It.

Whatever suspicion they may have entertained in the past, Kingston Rotarians were convinced at their noon luncheon today that John Gregory, vocalist of "Lulu" fame, is entirely destitute of that professional jealousy so common to great singers, when Mr. Gregory introduced Mr. Hamilton, composer, song writer and vocalist, and called on him to "vociferate." Mr. Hamilton vociferated two verses of the national anthem of which he is the author with great success and enthusiasm, after explaining that although he is 80 years of age, he reads without glasses, has been a choir singer and needed no aid from an accompanist except to have "low b" struck on the piano.

H. W. Harrison gave a vocational talk on the coal business and at the conclusion President Watts asked all who were satisfied with the present price of coal to manifest it by standing on their heads. Mr. Harrison had a surgeon on one side of him and an undertaker on the other during his talk, so was prepared for any emergency that might arise.

Arthur Carr gave a vivid account of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight as he saw it. The perfect order in which 91,000 persons—more than three times the population of Kingston—assembled and dispersed, impressed Mr. Carr more than did the fight itself. As to the second round, Mr. Carr said he believed Dempsey spoke the truth when saying he had no recollection of receiving any punishment in that round, as after the first three blows Carpentier landed Dempsey probably did not recollect anything. Had Carpentier's fourth blow landed, the fight would have ended right there.

After voting to hold a basket picnic on Wednesday, July 20, and to give the Boys' Club an automobile ride on Thursday evening, July 14, the meeting closed.

DEFENDS MARRIED MAN

Who Was Tarred and Feathered by Her Brothers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

East Pepperell, Mass., July 6.—Miss Esther Robbins was today said to be staunchly defending Percy England who was tarred and feathered, it is alleged, by the girl's brothers, Prof. Grover C. Robbins and Roger S. Robbins, and Robert R. Meredith. Objections to England as a suitor of the young woman, because he is already married, led to the drastic treatment. The three men are today out on bail.

In addition to the tarring, England was beaten nearly to insensibility. He has announced his intention of remaining here until his assailants are punished. He is quoted as declaring he intends to make an honorable proposal of marriage to the girl as soon as he has obtained a divorce from his wife, now "in the old country."

England is employed here as a chauffeur. Miss Robbins is a member of one of the village's leading families. She had been courted rather openly of late by the chauffeur. She is said to have declared herself willing to testify in his behalf.

Playthings for Baby.

Many playthings can be made for small children from pasteboard.

To make a wagon use a four-cornered box to which pasteboard wheels should be attached by wooden axles, these latter put through the sides of the box close to the bottom. Use common pins or small nails to hold the wheels on the axles. A small box inside the wagon does for a seat. Cut out a horse from pasteboard, stand him in front of the wagon, then cut the dasher down a little way. Put Dobbin's tail into this and if his feet touch level the rig is complete.

One-Handed Clock.

What is probably the oldest alarm clock in America, made in America, dates back to pre-Revolutionary times, and was made by Jonathan Wood of Philadelphia. The time and alarm are both operated by weights.

PLAN FOR NEXT WAR

Germans Grab Off 228 Patents in United States.

Secretary of War Tells of "Insidious Patent Activity by Germany" in This Country.

Washington.—"Insidious patent activity by Germany," in the United States, is the description given by Secretary of War Weeks to the efforts of German citizens here to patent devices of war in the name of Frederick Krupp.

The secretary declares that investigation of patents and applications for patents recently announced as having been obtained by German citizens shows that 228 were assigned to the Krupps, the war implement manufacturer of Germany.

"The investigation," said Secretary Weeks, "disclosed a rather striking circumstance in view of the conditions which Germany is supposed to observe as to disarmament and manufacture of war materials under her treaty obligations.

"Of the 228 patents, twenty-six relate to artillery fire control devices, eighteen to electric control apparatus, nine to fuses and projectiles, six to gas engines and appurtenances, seventeen to guns and their appurtenances, three to processes for the production of metals, ten to naval fire control devices, three to projectiles and machines for handling same, fourteen to railroad artillery, and the balance to varied uses, most of which might well relate to military use.

"Incident to making this investigation, it was noted that a large number of patents and applications had been assigned to numerous other German countries and a casual examination indicates that a considerable number relate to airplanes and their accessories, chemicals, dyes, radio apparatus and naval equipment.

"Investigation is being made of all these assignments and considerable progress has been made looking toward introduction of corrective measures in congress for the protection of those American industries in which the war department is especially interested, against this recurrence of insidious patent activity by Germany."

SCORNS WEALTH FOR U. S. A.

Penn[illegible]ania Woman Would Rather Be Washerwoman in America Than an Heiress in Sweden.

Philadelphia.—"I would rather be a washerwoman in the United States than an heiress in Sweden," declared Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson of Waterville, Pa., as she straightened up from the washtub and patriotically waved a sudsy garment.

"I couldn't think of going back to the old country," she said, "after having lived in the good old U. S. A. I would die of homesickness."

Word came to Mrs. Hendrickson a short time ago that two granduncles recently had died in Sweden, leaving her a share in a large fortune which, according to some reports, amounted to nearly $2,000,000. Mrs. Hendrickson engaged a lawyer to go to Sweden to look after her interests. He came back with the news that there would be no money for her so long as she remained in this country.

"I'll never go back, no matter how much money there is waiting for me," said Mrs. Hendrickson.

Imparting the Truth.

There can be no doubt that the proper way of conveying to my understanding a truth of which I am ignorant, or of impressing upon me a firmer persuasion of a truth with which I am acquainted, is by an appeal to my reason.—William Godwin.

RAILROAD POLICE BEING UNIFORMED

It was at the suggestion of Governor Miller that a bill was passed on March 10th, vesting in the superintendent of state police the power to appoint and revoke the license of any railroad or steamboat policeman in the State of New York.

This power was held for many years by the chief executive of the state, and as the special policemen in this service increased in numbers, the duty of making these appointments became perfunctory as well as onerous.

The governor held that to place this transportation police work under the supervision of the state police would be equivalent to forming an alliance between the two great organizations, and be a progressive step in coordinating the police forces of the state in a state-wide defence against crime.

To get complete cooperation and understanding, the railroad police chiefs in session in New York, May 4th, invited Major George F. Chandler, superintendent of state police, to meet with them and discuss the betterment of the service.

The railroad and steamboat police, some three thousand in number, have always done their work in plain clothes. At this session in New York, Major Chandler presented to the associated chiefs the advantages of a uniformed force.

A policeman in uniform is a repressive agent, and one of the most modern ideas in police work is the effort to prevent crime rather than the passive waiting to apprehend the criminal after the deed is done.

The New York Central Railroad has been the first to adopt the railroad police uniform, and the men on this force, in their neat gray and black, may now be seen in every station and on every train. The traveling public will shortly begin to realize that the transportation lines are policed and will appreciate the protection afforded.

Governor Miller is intensely interested in the movement for the cooperation of all police forces of the state. Under the new powers of the superintendent of state police, the men appointed by him as transportation policemen have the power of arrest anywhere in the state. They will therefore be of help to the state police in the enforcement of the law.

Lines of communication between the railroad police and the state troopers are being arranged by means of a network of telephone stations and outposts throughout the state. This will give quick cooperation between the two services, making the apprehension of criminals easier and the prevention of crime more certain.

PYTHIAN MEETING TO BE LARGEST

Attendance at Convention Here July 25 Will Exceed City's Accommodations and Rooms are Needed.

The grand lodge convention of the Knights of Pythias will be held in Kingston during the week of July 25. It will be the largest convention ever held in the city. Many who desire to attend will be unable to do so except for one day because of the inability to furnish sufficient lodging accommodations. It is expected that fifteen hundred will be in attendance during the entire week, and that one thousand more will be here on Wednesday of the week.

The grand temple of the Pythian Sisters will be held at the same time. They expect to have a larger delegation than at any previous convention. The knights will hold their business session in the main hall of the Elks' Home and the Pythian Sisters will hold their session in the Elks' beautiful lodge room. The Elks graciously offered the use of their building to the Knights of Pythian Sisters.

The grand lodge headquarters will be at the Stuyvesant Hotel and the grand temple headquarters at the Eagle. Major General Shepard, of the Uniform Rank, and his staff, will be quartered at the Kirkland. Saloam Temple of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorasson, will be at the West Shore Hotel. Others will be quartered at the Mitchell House, Kingston Hotel, Cuneo's and Cook's. The local committee is desirous of obtaining as many rooms as possible in private rooming houses and dwellings. Already about one hundred rooms have been secured but as many more are needed. Anyone having a room which they will let out for the week can communicate with the Chamber of Commerce or William H. Stork.

A splendid program for the week has been arranged by the local committee and approved by the grand lodge convention committee. The opening meeting will be held at the high school auditorium on Monday evening, July 25. It will be open to the public. There will be an orchestra to furnish music and also special music. Among others who will speak are Supreme Chancellor Ladew of New York city, Supreme Vice Chancellor George Cabell of Virginia and other notable Pythians. Mayor Canfield, who is grand chancellor, will preside at the meeting.

The Pythian Order enjoyed its greatest growth last year since it was instituted in 1866. The gain this past year in this state was equal to that of the preceding ten years. The total membership of the knights is nearly one million and that of the Pythian Sisters nearly three hundred thousand. The Knights and Pythian Sisters are looking forward to the next convention this year ever held. Kingston will welcome them.

SIXTH WORLD'S C. E. CONVENTION

Opened in 71st Regiment Armory In New York City Today—Many From Kingston Attending Sessions—Dr. Poling Injured.

A number of the Christian Endeavor societies in Kingston and Ulster county are represented at the sixth world's Christian Endeavor convention which opened today in the 71st Regiment armory in New York city, and will remain in session until next Monday.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the United C. E. Societies, was injured in an auto accident on the Fourth of July. He was motoring to New York city from his summer home at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire, to attend the convention. He is in a hospital receiving treatment for a sprained back and minor injuries. Dr. Poling is remembered here as the man who addressed the rally of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor several months ago when he made a deep impression upon his audience.

Saturday will occur the big C. E. parade on Fifth avenue when there will be a score of floats representing as many scenes from Pilgrim's Progress, and will be one of the many features of what will be the largest convention of its kind ever held. The parade forms at 23rd street at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and will march up Fifth avenue terminating at an outdoor meeting in Central Park at which William Jennings Bryan will be the speaker.

The sessions open this evening when the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who founded the Christian Endeavor organization forty years ago, will preside.

Chorus singing will be another feature of the convention and the delegates will be led by Homer Rodeheaver, the famous leader of the Billy Sunday campaigns and Percy Foster.

Acting as sponsor at Raritan, N. J., of a rowboat made by a nine-year-old boy, President Harding delivered a Fourth of July oration of a single sentence in tribute to the aspirations of American boyhood. The diminutive craft, which inspired the toast, was the Raritan, nine feet over all, conceived and built by Joseph Frelinghuysen, Jr., son of the senior Senator from New Jersey, at whose home Mr. and Mrs. Harding were guests. The bank of an artificial lake was the scene of the launching and will be the home port of the Raritan as she sails a tramp course in search of misdirected golf balls. Specially constructed ways, whose upper end rested on a soap box, guided her down the bank. The president broke a beribboned bottle of mineral water across her bow and said: "As a tribute to American boyhood, who build castles in the air, who build boats and whose achievements in the future will build this country, I christen this boat, the handiwork of Joe Frelinghuysen, the 'Raritan.'" The photo shows the president christening the boat, with little Joe at the helm.

FINDS BANK STOCK

Hidden Years Ago And Now Sues Bank's Successor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—There were no safe deposit vaults in New York in 1822. And so, when Thomas Williams, shortly before his death in that year, wanted a safe place to keep a certificate for sixty-seven shares of stock in the old Mechanics Bank, he had no better place than an old copy of Spencer's Faerie Queen. There it lay for almost a century, until discovered by a genealogist, delving in the archives of the past.

And that is why Alfred Watkins Seymour, great-grandson of Williams and owner of the precious slip of paper, now said to be worth at least $500,000 in accrued unpaid dividends, is renewing his legal action against the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, the lineal descendant of the old Mechanics Bank. Seymour owns a small restaurant in Seattle, and is the sole heir to Thomas Williams. He is 65 years old and has a wife and family.

Ulster Park Grange Picnic.

Ulster Park Grange will hold its annual picnic at Lake Katrine on Friday of this week. Those driving to the picnic in automobiles will meet at the Grange Hall at 10 o'clock, standard time.

President Harding "putting off" on a tee on the course near the home of Senator Frelinghuysen, at Raritan, N. J. President Harding is an ardent golf fan and plays whenever he gets the chance, which is not very often.

FARMERS VOTE ON MARKET QUESTIONS

Farm Bureau Questionnaire Returns For New York State Show 97.8 Per Cent Favor Cooperative Selling.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 6.—New York farmers apparently are strongly in favor of cooperative marketing and the "truth in fabric" law, judging from the returns on these questions on the farm bureau federation questionnaire. This latter got a 97 per cent affirmative vote, the largest on any of the sixteen questions, and the former a 96 per cent vote.

Some 10,000 members of New York state farm bureaus filled out the questionnaire, according to a statement given out by the state farm bureau federation office here. Taking together the 38 states which have forwarded their returns to the American Farm Bureau Foderation in Chicago, the yes vote on both these questions is even larger—99.3 per cent on each.

The state summary, of course, is of special interest to New Yorkers. The question on "Truth in Fabric Legislation" was favored by 97 per cent of returns; legislation for cooperative marketing 96 per cent in favor; 59 per cent are against the Great Lakes water way; but for the 38 states as a whole, the vote was 93 per cent yes; general sales tax stands 55 per cent in favor; 58 per cent desire to increase the limit on federal land bank mortgage loans.

The percentages on the other questions are as follows: Commodity financing based on bonded warehouse receipts, 86 per cent in favor; livestock financing, 84 per cent in favor; personal rural credit, 94 per cent in favor; 85 per cent would request that authority be granted the federal reserve board to classify rediscount; 77 per cent favor asking congress to submit constitutional amendment to states prohibiting issuance of all tax-free securities; continuance of excess profits tax won support of 75 per cent; 84 per cent said they could move more products with adequate reductions in freight rates; 94 per cent favor farm-to-market roads prior to transcontinental. 52 per cent opposition was registered against water-way development; regulation of packers received an 85 per cent positive vote while 86 per cent are in favor of legislation making illegal practice of short-selling.

"The referendum, by the diversity of questions, showed that the American Farm Bureau Federation is a national organization and not one representing a community, a county or a state," says the federation statement. "Therefore, several of the questions did not relate to subjects of vital interest to this state. It gave each one individually something to think about which in itself is of sufficient importance to justify the referendum."

Who says that "bargain" tires are what the people want

MOST everybody knows the easy-going sort of man who never takes a tire seriously until he gets a blow-out.

How long he will resist universal tire education is a question.

But this is sure—

More people are finding out every day that between leaving things to luck and getting real economy there is a big difference.

Many a car-owner has come to U. S. Tires because he couldn't afford to keep on paying that difference.

Probably seven out of ten users of U. S. Tires came to them only after they'd had enough of "discounts", "bargain offers", "clearance sales of surplus stocks" and other similar appeals.

They have found economy—and they stick to it.

They pay a net price—not "something off list" that may not mean anything in the first place.

They get fresh, live tires, being made and shipped while this message is being written.

No matter where they live there's a nearby U. S. Dealer with his nearby U. S. Factory Branch.

U. S. Tires keep moving.

No opportunity to get old and dried out. No shifting here and there trying to find a market.

Every U. S. Tire a good tire, wherever you find it anywhere in the country.

Because the U. S. policy is a good policy that serves the car-owner all the time.

Doing the very best for him that human good faith can do.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

NEW YORK BOY DROWNS IN RIVER

Morris Chassner, living at 412 Cherry street, New York city, was drowned while trying to swim in the Hudson river at Marlborough on Sunday.

Chassner was graduated from the grammar school he attended in New York in June and on Wednesday of last week came to Marlborough with two other boys to pick berries throughout the season. The three boys were employed on the farm of Howard Baker, where Chassner was employed in picking berries last year also.

On account of the heat on Sunday, the three boys decided to bathe in the river and procured a raft near the shore from which to dive. Chassner could not swim. He made a dive from the raft, came to the surface and then sank.

The body was recovered and Coroner George Suiter of Marlborough was summoned, who issued a burial permit. Chassner was 16 years and 9 days old. The body was taken to New York for interment.

Predicts New Polish Trouble.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, July 6.—A new Polish insurgent uprising is brewing in Upper Silesia, according to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today. The rebels will begin the movement with a strike on July 10, but actual fighting is not expected to break out until July 17, the newspaper stated. The insurgents are said to be receiving pay and already are being drilled in Poland. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said that its information was secured from an authoritative source. However, it has not been officially confirmed. Germans are protesting against new bandit outrages in the districts of Gleiwitz, Rybnik and Ratibor, in Upper Silesia.

MOST CHAMPIONS EASY TO HIT

Best Men of Ring Have Been Those Who Could Take All Other Fellow Had and Then Knock Him Out.

(By Tad.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—They were discussing Saturday's fight.

"Dempsey didn't miss many of the punches that Carpentier shot at him," said Gregory Mitchell, the San Diego sportsman.

"And it seemed to me that the champion couldn't get away from them," piped Tom Mulvey of Frisco.

Jim Coffroth, the western promoter, then spoke up.

"As a matter of fact," said Coffroth, most of our heavy weight champions have been easy to hit. When you stop to think of it only two heavy weight champions ever managed to go through their ring careers without taking much punishment. There was Corbett, his footwork and marvellous boxing ability saved him in all his matches.

"Corbett, you might say, was the original disappearing gun. He is unmarked today even though he met every great man of his time. The other fellow was Jack Johnson. With a great defense, coupled with his timidity, he was seldom hit. Johnson was probably the greatest defensive big man the world ever saw. Being stronger than any man who ever pulled on a pair of gloves, he was a hard man to get close to.

"Figuring along from Sullivan down to Dempsey, most of the champions were marks. Sullivan's iron jaw saved him in many a fight. Patsy Cardiff knocked him clear across the ring in Minneapolis, breaking his hand on John L.'s head. Little Charley Mitchell sent him sprawling on the floor in their New York fight.

"Then came Fitzsimmons. He was a notorious target. Maher had him reeling all over the ring in New Orleans. Choynski had him on the floor a couple of times and Ruhlin had him punch drunk in their fight. Corbett cut him and had him down at Carson City and there were other fights in which he just barely lasted.

"Jeffries was easy to hit by most every man he ever met. In Frisco when he fought Fitz the second time his head was as big as a barrel. Both his eyes were closed, his mouth was cut and his face on the right side was swollen all out of proportion. Corbett hit him 10,000 times at Coney Island, but Jim's punch was gone. It was Jeff's great physique and ability to take it that made him champion.

"Willard was another mark to shoot at. He was big but was easy to hit. He had taken many a punch on the chin before Dempsey mussed him up at Toledo.

"Now we get down to Dempsey. He, too, has been hit in all his fights, but then, he can take it. He doesn't seem to care about the other fellow at all. Jack wants to get in where he can hit the other fellow. He knows that when he lands he will bring the other fellow down and I think he's right."

Indians And Pirates Still Showing Way To Yankees and Giants But Inter-Sectional Series May Change All That.

(By Jack Veiock)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Baseball bounced back into the calcium today. The good old pastime is as much a part of summer as sunburn and freckles. You can't keep it down.

With the big fight a thing of history the keen races in the major leagues resumed their prominence on the stage of sport and if present indications hold good they will monopolize the spotlight pretty steadily from now until October.

Golf and tennis events of national and international interest, and the Davis Cup matches, and an occasional fistic attraction such as the proposed Gibbons-Carpentier battle, will divert the attention of the sporting public at odd times during the next three months, but the stars of the diamond will demand their usual tribute.

As a rule the teams that head the packs in the American and National leagues on July 4 are bangup favorites to win the pennants. This is only partly true today for the reason that both races are two-club affairs.

The champion Cleveland Indians are barely holding their own with the heavy hitting Yankees stepping on their heels.

The Pittsburgh Pirates have managed to keep a few paces ahead of John McGraw's pennant-hungry Giants in the National League.

But there is no certainty that the first of August will not see a change in the complexion of both races.

The impending inter-sectional series with eastern American and western National league clubs on the road may develop the real turning points of both races.

The fate of the Yankees may hang on what they can do in the west. The same may be said of the Pirates, playing in the east. And neither team is going to have an easy row to hoe. The coming series, therefore, will leave the Indians and Giants with everything in their favor for building up percentage and if they are to keep in the scramble they will have to take advantage of it.

Tris Speaker's team so far this season has shown the best fighting spirit of any club in either league Time after time the Indians have overcome sizable leads by their opponents, coming from behind to win with a rush in the last few innings. They have this to thank for the fact that they are leading their league today.

In the case of the Pirates the situation has not changed in more than a month. It is the same old question of whether or not Mooney Gibson's pitchers will be able to hold out. If they crack the Giants will pass them sure, and once in the van McGraw's team will be about as easy to catch as a handful of wild eels.

Fandom will also keep a keener weather eye on Babe Ruth now that Jack and Georges have had their fling. The Busting Bambino, with 31 mighty circuits already running up, is comfortably ahead of his 1920 record and is a good bet to shatter it. His 31st homer last summer was made on July 20 off Red Faber at the Polo Grounds.

George Kelly, with twelve homers, is out of the running as a competitor of the Big Babe.

LEAP YEARS IN 4,000.

Elaborately Computed by Former Kingstonian.

L. DeWitt Griswold, formerly a well known resident of Kingston, writes in the Middletown Press as follows:

As a matter of curiosity, coupled with scientific information, we have elaborately, computed, approximately the number of leap year suspensions, or how many times leap year can occur during a period of 4,000 years, and shorter intermediate periods, based upon the exact, minute time required for the earth to pass around the sun—from one vernal equinox to another—called the vernal or tropical year, which is the true year—365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 49.7 seconds. Now, the solar (true) year is 10463-43200 of a day greater than a common year—365 days fractionally, and approximately, expressed. It is upon this approximation that we have computed the exact number of leap years that only can occur in 4,000 years, reckoning from 1782, when was made the lost correction of the time between the solar and our now civil calendar.

On the advent of last year, 1920, a leap year, the writer, in a voluminous article in the Times-Press, adduced the reason why we have leap years, and showed that every fourth year (its multiple) is not a leap year. It caused much discussion, contradiction, and even small betting was staked on the issue; little amounts lost and gained, pro and con, as we were so informed, by the various communications we received concerning the conditions of the subject discussed.

The first correction made in the calendar was in 1582, under the decree of Pope Gregory, when was stricken from the calendar 10 days; the day following the 3d of October was considered the 14th, consequently October had only 21 days.

The second correction in the calendar was in 1752, 170 years later, during which time Great Britain had continued the Julian Calendar, which was used 1,628 years, from 46 years B. C. to 1582. At this time the civil year was 11 days behind the solar year. Finally, to correct this error, the British government decreed that eleven days should be stricken from the calendar, and that the day following the 2d day of September, 1782, should be considered the 14th. So here we see the reason why we have leap years—to keep the civil and solar calendars uniform, the seasons in their regular chronological order, so to speak; otherwise, in time the month of June (with its proverbial "June weddings") would take the place of December. It will also be seen that September, 1782, had only 19 days, in the civil calendar.

Now not till 2218—approximately computed, nearly 300 years hence, will it be necessary to again correct the civil calendar, by striking out one day of the month, in which, is made the correction; for, during these 39 decades, owing to the mentioned infinitesimal difference, still existing between the two calendars, viz: 10463-43200 of a day, one day will have been lost. This one or more days inserted in or expunged from the calendar, are called incalarary days.

Now, the number of leap years that can only occur during certain chronological periods, when one day must be stricken from the common year, follows: Once every 4 years; 7 times every 28 years; 8 times every 33 years; 163 times every 673 years and not over 969 times in 4,000 years.

Therefore, under the now almost absolutely precise construction of our calendarial system, one day must be stricken from the civil calendar, when it will be necessary to make the next correction, 297 years hence to be exact, or 4,000 years from 1752, when was made the second correction, at which time leap year was first injected into the civil calendar, and previous to which time leap year was unknown.

Think of the mathematical, herculean task performed, the arrayal of figures involved, the syllogistic reasoning acquired to obtain these difficult, deductive, mathematical results, partly through curiosity, but mainly through scientific information.

STINNES WANTS TO QUIT POLITICS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, July 6.—Hugo Stinnes, coal king, billionaire and member of the German parliament, has been cured of politics. He is looking for an opportunity to surrender his seat in the Reichstag as gracefully and as quietly as possible, the International News Service was informed today on reliable authority. Under no circumstances will Stinnes become a candidate for re-election.

"Stinnes ist ein kind in der politik; er braucht ein regisseur," is the frequent comment voiced in the lobbies of the Reichstag. This means that Herr Stinnes is not fitted for politics. His friends pity Germany's richest man because they consider him a child in political affairs who needs a "regisseur," as movie and stage directors are called in Germany.

Stinnes's position is summed up by his friends, who ask "could you imagine J. P. Morgan having himself elected a member of congress and going to Washington to cast his vote for a new loan which the Morgan interests proposed to finance at a great profit to themselves? Or could you conceive of John D. Rockefeller becoming Congressman Rockefeller so that he could personally lead the fight for tariffs agreeable to the Standard Oil Company?"

This was the position in which Herr Stinnes placed himself when he informed the Volks Partei he intended to go into the Reichstag. Stinnes can afford to hire the best political and economical brains in Germany to guard the Stinnes interests in the German parliament. But instead of remaining behind the scenes and pulling the wires, Hugo Stinnes himself stepped out upon the political stage to be howled at by the radical galleries.

Radical newspapers consider the name of Stinnes the symbol of capitalism. Many of the French newspapers and some British newspapers have joined the Berlin radicals in doubting any German government not controlled by Lenine and Trotzky, a "Stinnes government."

Neither vanity nor ambition was responsible for Stinnes entering the Reichstag, according to his party mates, who urged him not to enter politics. Stinnes's organising faculties have one serious omission; his personal direction is indispensable to all his undertakings. He is educating his sons to conduct their business heritage in the same way after his death.

But Stinnes has learned by rather unpleasant experiences that in politics he must let some one else represent him; he cannot enforce his wishes by power of his presence and personal direction. Germany's economic emperor is looking for a quiet back door out of the Reichstag. Neither his party, the Volks Partei, nor the large Stinnes opposition will oppose his retirement.

FOREIGN LOANS INTEREST HOUSE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—House Republican leaders are insisting today that they are entitled to deal first with the administration's request for legislation giving it blanket authority to handle the $11,000,000,000 foreign indebtedness to the United States.

Representative Fordney, Republican, of Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee, contends that as the proposed legislation involves revenue matters, the house and his committee have a constitutional right to tackle it before it is taken up by the senate and the senate finance committee.

Fordney and other house Republican leaders resent the senate finance committee's recent action in starting hearings on the draft of the legislations submitted to the senate and house jointly by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. They have a plan under way by which the house will sandwich the Mellon legislation between the Fordney tariff bill and the new tax act they insist will come later on in the present session.

If their plans succeed, it is the belief of Fordney and his Republican associates that the Mellon plan can be disposed of by the house ways and means committee and by the house in ample time to prevent it unduly delaying the proposed legislation.

Opposition to the administration's request for blanket authority is growing, however, in the senate and house. Senate Republican leaders are fearful it may provoke considerable debate in both chambers and if an attempt is made to thrust it between tariff and tax legislation congress may become involved in a serious legislative jam which would further hamper the Republican program for tax revision yet to be worked out.

HIT BY AUTO.

Driver Left Him, Badly Hurt, Lying In Road.

James Moore was found by a passing tourist Monday night about 11:45 o'clock lying in the middle of the road about a hundred feet from Crotty's hotel at Veteran, in a serious condition. He had been struck by a passing car and the car driver did not stop to investigate. Captain Richter of Saugerties and Trooper Montgomery went to the scene of the accident in a commandeered car and brought Moore to the office of Dr. B. W. Gifford where it was found that he had his right leg broken in two places and it required several stitches to close the wounds in his head and face. Moore was then taken to the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston where the fracture was reduced. The police could not learn what car had struck Moore.

REFERENDUM OF ALL RAIL UNIONS

To Decide Course Toward Wage Cuts Must Be Finished By Sept. 1, Decide Labor Leaders—At Same Time They Will Seek Conferences With Road Executives Which May Result In Compromise.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 6.—Preparations for a referendum that amounts virtually to a strike vote of the 1,500,000 railway employes of the country were being made today. The referendum will decide the attitude of the workers toward wage reductions that became effective July 1. It must be completed by September 1.

Taking of the referendum was decided upon by leaders of the railway employes' organizations at a conference here. In announcing the plan the union chiefs declared they "did not assume responsibility for wage reductions."

Possibility of a settlement of the controversy before the referendum is completed, however, is seen in the announcement of the union leaders that conferences will be sought with the officials of the railroads. If such conferences are held and a compromise proposition results these agreements will be submitted to the workers for their approval.

It was indicated by union leaders that the chief object of the conferences is to place the railway officials on record as to their attitude toward further wage cuts or changes in the working agreements. Working rules, it was made clear, are regarded as an issue fully as important as the wage question.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES.

"The Hawk" Appeals to Crooks to Return Donaldson Jewels.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Bent on proving to the world that there is gratitude as well as honor among thieves, James Curran, alias Jimmy the Trusty, and "The Hawk," today appealed through the newspapers for the return of the jewels valued ta $35,000 stolen from Mrs. W. H. Donaldson two weeks ago on a railroad train. Curran bases his plea on the fact that Mr. Donaldson, who is well known as publisher of a theatrical magazine, has done much to assist former convicts on the road to success. Said Curran:

"I know that Mr. Donaldson has been a factor in aiding men paroled from prison to re-establish themselves. I therefore plead with the underworld at large to aid me in locating and arranging for the return of the jewels. I want to substantiate my claim that there is honor among thieves and that all of them can be reached through sentiment when they cannot through the law."

Curran, whose activities as a confidence man were well known to the police at one time, is certain that his appeal to the hearts of his former associates, plus the $4,000 reward offered for the return of the jewels, will bear fruit.

CARPENTIER GUEST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6—American boxing fans and fistic critics have made a favorable and lasting impression on Georges Carpentier.

Carpentier was the guest of honor at a dinner last night at which a score of visiting British and French sporting writers sat around the table with members of the American press as the guests of James Wright Brown, proprietor of the Editor and Publisher.

Toasts and speeches lauding Carpentier and looking toward the promotion of closer international relations in sports featured the dinner. Carpentier told the newspaper men that he has no excuse to offer for his defeat; that he was defeated by the best fighter in the world and that he drank to the health of Jack Dempsey.

PROPER APPLIES FOR BUS PERMIT

Charles Proper Makes Another Application to Operate a Bus Line, and His Petition is Referred to a Public Hearing, July 19.

Charles Proper, who has applied to the common council several times for a permit to operate a bus line from Rosendale to Kingston and been turned down each time, bobbed up again at the regular monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening with a petition requesting permission to operate a bus line from Lawrenceville to Rosendale to Bloomington to Creek Locks back to Bloomington to Greenkill avenue to Broadway to the Strand.

Alderman Roosa of the Second ward moved that the petition be dismissed as it asked to stop at Broadway and the Strand and there was no terminal there.

Alderman Martin objected and said that it was probably a clerical error on the part of Frank W. Brooks, who appeared for Mr. Proper, and that Mr. Brooks be given an opportunity to speak.

Mr. Brooks said that under the law the petitioner was entitled to amend his petition in case that there had been a clerical error, and that the word Strand covered a lot of territory. He had since learned that the bus terminal was in the Arcade on the Strand, and said that when the matter came up for a hearing he would ask to have the petition amended to include the terminal.

President Dittus instructed City Clerk Doremus to amend the petition so that instead of reading Broadway and Strand it read the bus terminal on the Strand.

Alderman Roosa then moved that it be referred to the bus committee to hold a public hearing July 19, which was adopted.

FRESH MUSHROOMS UP TO DATE.

We may now begin to look in the fields and pastures for the delicious mushrooms. The following are a few of the delectable dishes which may be prepared with them:

Stuffed Mushrooms—Take the even sized mushrooms, remove the stems, peel the caps and fill a mushroom cap with chopped chicken, beef tongue, truffles and cream, either of the meats or both. Butter a pan and set the stuffed mushrooms therein; cover with a mushroom of the same size, add a little lemon juice, a dash of orange juice and cover, then cook in a slow oven for 12 minutes. Serve on toast. To the juice in the pan add a little meat glace, a pinch of minced parsley, and pour over the mushrooms.

Mushrooms Eugenie.—Chop one-half pound of fresh peeled mushrooms; put into a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of butter and let them stew over a slow fire; the stems from half a pound of mushrooms may be used economically, using the caps by sauteing them in butter, and dish them up on squares of bread fried in butter. To the chopped mushrooms now add one-fourth cupful of white sauce and one-half cupful cream; season with salt, paprica, and pour around the mushrooms.

Mushrooms Manhattan.—Cut six or eight good-sized mushrooms in squares and cook them in butter; add three ounces of well cleaned oyster crabs; when nearly cooked add a quarter of a cup of white sauce, a dash of fruit juice and the yolks of two eggs; season highly and put a tablespoonful of mixture into china ramekins and fill with the following: To a pint of puree of mushrooms add the whites of three eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Cook six to eight minutes in a moderate oven. To prepare the mushrooms chop them, cook in butter, add cream, add egg to bind, season to taste.

Sauces.—Dissolve two ounces of jelly in three pints of boiling water; when cold add the juice of a lemon and vanner, if needed.

This automobile was struck by a passenger train at the crossing shown, where the usual safety rules were not observed by the driver. One occupant was killed and four others were permanently injured

Because of the astounding increase of automobile accidents at railroad crossings this year, the Pennsylvania Railroad, through its Safety First Department, is making a special effort to curb these unusually fatal accidents. Throughout the entire Pennsylvania system, wherever its tracks are laid, observers are on the lookout for careless motorists who persist in taking chances. They take the number of the automobile, and in a day or so Mr. Motorist receives one of the above postcards. It is a gentle reminder and warning which he is not apt to forget, and by this means the railroad expects to save many lives.

WHEN A STREET IS NOT A STREET

It's Not the First Cost of a Building Lot But the Last That Stings the Purchaser—Some Real Estate Transactions Discussed by the City Fathers.

Alderman Roosa, of the Second ward, Tuesday evening raised a question as to whether the city authorities did not have the power of forbidding any one to take up a vacant plot of ground and lay it out in building lots without first getting in touch with the city authorities and filing a map of the proposed streets to be laid out. He said that in the past, and undoubtedly in the future, some out of town concern would come to Kingston, buy up an attractive building plot, lay it out in small building lots, hire a brass band and a good speaker and sell the lots off to the public for building purposes.

Where the objection arose, according to the alderman from the Second ward, the new owners sometimes bought with the belief that the city would lay out the street, place it at grade and extend sewer and water pipes through the street. In this they were mistaken, and very often a lot that originally cost but $50 would cost $500 by the time improvements were made.

To prevent purchasers from being stung he thought that if there was not an ordinance covering that, one should be drawn and adopted.

Can't Be Done, Says Mayor.

Mayor Canfield, who was present, said that he did not see how Alderman Roosa's suggestion could be carried out. A man who owned a plot of ground had a right to lay it out in building lots, and also lay out any roadways on the property he desired, but it should be understood that they were roadways and not streets.

A street did not become a street until it was accepted by the board of public works.

The mayor said that several years ago he had introduced an ordinance providing for a city planning commission, and his suggestion would be to resurrect that old ordinance, and if it could not be found to have a new one framed.

Macholdt's Experience.

Alderman Macholdt said that he thought the mayor's idea a good one as he had had a little experience of his own with his own house. When he had built the house it stood above the roadway, but since then the grade had been changed at least three times and he was now several inches below the street level as a result.

"Public Should Be Warned."

Several of the other aldermen took part in the discussion and it was brought out by Alderman Myers that on Albany avenue near the Stewart farm the sewer was only three feet below the surface, and it would not be possible to make connections with the sewer if any building lots were sold from that tract. The only relief those who built could obtain would be when the city, if ever, built a new trunk line sewer.

Alderman Martin said the people of Mapleton had the same experience.

The trouble was that there were too many suburbs in the city according to some of the aldermen, and the discussion was brought to a close.

The moral—be sure before purchasing a building lot that the street is improved or ascertain when it will be and the probable cost.

AGRIGRAPHS.

If the granaries are not clean and ready for the new crop, making them so is a good rainy day job.

Uncle Ab says: Call it business, science or common sense, but use it in selling crops as well as raising them.

Artificial shade in the pastures, if nature has furnished none, will pay in increased thrift of the livestock.

Buckwheat is a poor land crop. Have you the State Agricultural College buckwheat bulletin? Send to Ithaca for F 110.

Over-ripe hay like over-ripe fruit isn't the best. Cut at the right time. And have you tried hay caps to help in curing?

One reason some young folks do not go back to the farm may be because they have to travel over such poor roads to get there.

"The most efficient manufacturers of the most perfect food" is the caption under a picture of a herd of pure bred Tioga County Holsteins.

Agriculture is the backbone of the nation and it's a backbone made up of at least three vertebrae—a fertile soil, an active brain and an active body.

PENALTY POSSIBLE

For Those Who Refuse House Census Information.

The census bureau is now in the midst of an investigation to ascertain the amount of the encumbrances on homes. This inquiry is made in compliance with the requirements of the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1919. It is desired to show the total number of homes in each city that are rented, the number that are owned free of mortgage, the number that are subject to mortgage indebtedness and the amount of such indebtedness. Schedules of inquiry calling for this information have been sent to all of the persons reported in this city as owning homes subject to mortgage. But unfortunately, a large number of the citizens have not replied to the official request. Two requests have already been sent and a third request is now about to be mailed. The law providing for this inquiry contains a penalty for refusal to furnish the information. Replies will be treated as strictly confidential.

Peak of the Load

It comes at the breakfast, luncheon and dinner hour. The demand is sudden, tremendous.

"Peak of the load," says the gas engineer. "What a convenience," comments the housewife. And both refer to the biggest service problem in the public utility business.

To get gas service when, where, and how you want it without warning, without telephoning for it, means that we must have "peak of the load" equipment to meet "peak of the load" demands.

This equipment is costly It takes a lot of money to keep it in good condition, ready at all times to serve you. And the maximum number of men must be employed to operate it whether the call comes or not.

Vital things, these. And they must be paid for if you are to get the gas service you demand, in the way you demand it.

Think it over.

HOW IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD RUINS A WOMAN'S HEALTH—

AND MAY MAKE HER WRINKLED, AGED AND CARE-WORN, GIVING HER FACE A PALE, HAGGARD, SICKLY APPEARANCE

For want of iron you may practically be an old woman at from 30 to 35, weak, downhearted and "all fagged out." You may be in such a highly nervous irritable state that you "go all to pieces" on the slightest provocation, while at 50 or 60 with good health and plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling and as attractive and full of life as to defy detection of your real age.

It's not always the youngest woman that is most sought after—there is an indescribably alluring fascination in the rosy cheek, the inviting lips and sparkling eyes of a blood filled with iron. You may be afflicted with iron starvation of the blood and not know it, just as thousands of other women are.

It is said that about one person in three in America today suffers more or less from insufficient—lack of nourishment, which is caused not by lack of food, but in many cases, by lack of sufficient iron in the blood to enable you to get the strength and nourishment out of your food.

Indoor life, over-eating and modern methods of cookery are sapping the iron from the blood of hundreds of thousands of women. Our forefathers, to whom history refers as a nation of red blooded Americans, ate the husks of grains and the stem and roots of vegetables and other coarse foods rich in strength giving iron, which the modern woman does not get.

To make up for the great loss of iron caused by the life women is compelled to lead she should eat more such iron-containing vegetables and fruits as spinach and baked apples and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron from time to time to help enrich her blood and so vitalize her worried, exhausted nerves.

Nuxated Iron supplies organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron contents) to eating half a pound of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or a dozen apples. It's the taking extract of nourishment of entire pounds of meat.

Over nineteen people naturally use Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth and disturb the stomach. It often increases the health and mental vigor of thousands of people within two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Nuxated Iron comes in tablet form only in original sizes. Always look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters S. F. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

This is the convention of the American Osteopathic Society of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology at which several hundred specialists will be in attendance. PARESIS TO BE KABER DEFENSE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Court House, Cleveland, Ohio, July 6.—Who was the "fiend," the "brains," that engineered the plot to murder Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher.

Not his widow, Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, the wan, dark woman who sits in the court room here with eyes closed and as emotionless as a statue, according to the defense, but a 69 year old woman confined in the detention house, a pathetic wrinkled old creature who invokes curses on Mrs. Kaber, her own daughter.

A battle between mother and daughter, each willing to send the other to the electric chair by her testimony.

"She dragged me into this. She made me wash and slave for her so she could tell Dan Kaber others did it and collect pin money from him," says the mother.

"Mrs. Kaber, her brain diseased, weak and helpless, was the victim of her mother's machinations," the defense will claim, it was learned today.

"Paretic brain" will be the unusual line of defense put forth to save the so-called "murder queen."

Between the death chair and the alternative of spending the rest of her life in a hospital for the insane, she chooses the former.

"I will take a chance with death," she is said to have informed her attorneys tabooing a move contemplated by them to have her declared insane.

Alienists will testify that she is suffering from a form of paresis, which renders her irresponsible at times. This brain disease, it will be claimed, is a result of the degenerate acts of Kaber, the murdered man. Baring her soul and all the sordid life on the witness stand, the accused woman will paint Kaber, who was one of Cleveland's most prominent business men as a degenerate of the vilest type.

She will claim that in mortal terror of her life by his threats and distracted by the abuses practiced on her, she sought fortune tellers to use their "psychic powers" and Mrs. Erminia Cclavito, the "poison queen" to use "black magic" not to kill Kaber, but to cure him of his "bad habits."

Today, if a jury is empanelled, Moses Kaber, the slain man's 73 year old father, will face his daughter-in-law from the witness stand. He will be the first witness called by the state, according to present plans.

The little old man who has sat in the court room and kept his eyes constantly on the woman charged with his son's murder since the trial began and for two years had her trailed, a silent waiting nemesis said today he seeks only justice.

"For two years I spent sleepless nights and thousands of dollars to trail my son's slayer," he said. "I do not want vengeance. All I ask is justice. I will accept the jury's verdict and, if she is freed, she can have my son's property."

As soon as the jury is empanelled it will be taken to the "murder mansion" to review the room where Kaber was slain by the stiletto of Vittoria Pissilli, a hired assassin. The "murder mansion" as the scene of the tragedy has become known in Cleveland, is a beautiful house with white classic columns, situated in Lakewood, a beautiful suburb. If the accused woman is freed, she will inherit the "murder mansion."

Washington, July 6.—Reports which have gained some currency in Mexico City that the United States has dispatched a new note to the Mexican government were denied today at the state department. It was stated officially that there has been no communication dispatched to Mexico City and that the "Mexican situation is unchanged." Neither has there been any decision, it was said, regarding protest lodged with the state department by American oil producers in Mexico against the imposition of the additional 25 per cent export tax by President Obregon.

ONLY IGNORANT JAPS TALK WAR

Says Tokio University Professor Here To Talk On Limitation Of Armaments, Fear Which Sentiment Is Growing In Orient.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Thinking people of Japan give no head to talk of possible war between the United States and Japan, according to Prof. Shigeo Suyehiro of Kyoto Imperial University, Tokio, who is here today consulting with leading American statesmen on the subject of limitation of armaments.

There is war talk in Japan, just as there is the United States, Prof. Suyehiro said today, but this he attributes to a "minority of those who have imperialistic plans for the development of national power."

The great majority of the Japanese people are progressive and realise that peaceful negotiation is far more effective than war, the professor stated.

Anti-American feeling exists in Japan, the educator admitted, but he refuses to consider this as permanent or a matter which can be given concern in considering the possible trend of relations between the two sections. The antagonism towards the United States in Japan exists largely among the masses, but is a temporary feeling and has been brought about by the Yap controversy and the California land laws.

Much of the misunderstanding which now exists between the United States and Japan could be wiped out by closer contact, the professor believes.

Popular sentiment towards limitation of armament is growing apace in the Oriental empire, the professor declared, and it is being supported by the largest business interests.

"National organizations, such as chambers of commerce, which are much more influential in Japan than in America, approve the movement," he stated.

While in the United States Prof. Suyehiro will seek to impress the desire of Japan for a speedy disarmament conference and that such a conference be held publicly.

James A. Stillman, the central figure in the now famous Stillman divorce case, finally consented to face the camera. He was somewhat glum about it, but stood the ordeal gamely. The photograph was made at Poughkeepsie, where two days of questioning brought from him the stereotyped reply that to answer truthfully would incriminate him.

FIND NO GOOD IN FORDNEY TARIFF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Democratic leaders in the house will present no tariff revision bill as a substitute for the Fordney bill which is to be taken up for consideration tomorrow, it was decided today.

The minority leaders take the position that the present Underwood tariff law, a Democratic tariff-for-revenue-only measure is as sound now and as sufficient as when enacted in 1913 and that changes to it are unnecessary and unwise. Standing squarely upon this law they will devote themselves to broadside attacks on the Fordney bill as unsound.

Formal defense of the attack on the bill came today from the Republican and Democratic members of the ways and means committee in reports on the proposed legislation filed with the house by Chairman Fordney and representative Garner, who, in the absence of Representative Kitchen, is the ranking democratic member of the committee. Besides the reports there are minority Republican attacks on sections of the bill from representative Frear, Wisconsin; Young, North Dakota, and Green, Iowa. Other Republicans members of the committee are expected to launch some criticisms of various rates. If they should fail in their efforts to bring about a change in the bill they are expected as good Republicans to swallow their disappointment and march along peacefully with the majority to a final vote in favor of the bill.

Chairman Fordney expects to get the bill before the house tomorrow.

New York, July 6.—The theft of $175,000 worth of diamonds on a Pennsylvania railroad train between this city and Trenton, N. J., was reported to the police today by Joseph Haskell, a jewel merchant of 65 Maiden Lane.

After reporting the theft to the railroad police Haskell returned to New York to advise the local authorities of his loss. Then he returned post haste to Trenton to take up the trail there.

Haskell, who lives at the Continental Hotel, was on his way to Pittsburgh, the first stop in a selling trip through the middle west. The diamonds were loose and were carried in a small hand bag.

He said that after boarding a train at the Pennsylvania station he handed his suit case and the hand bag to a porter to put under his seat while he stood on the train shed platform smoking a cigar. He went to the smoking car when the train pulled out and it was not until Trenton was reached that he thought to reassure himself that the precious stones were safe. He reached under the seat and found the hand bag gone. The porter said he had seen no one taking anything from the seat.

Haskell continued to Philadelphia where he notified the railroad police. He said he thought that the bag had been stolen by some one leaving the train at Trenton. From Philadelphia he hurried back to New York and after giving a description of the gems left to assist the authodities at Trenton.

Mrs. E. L. Buchanan, the young widow of Captain E. L. Buchanan, Assistant Irrigation Officer, who was killed in the riots in Mesopotamia nine months ago, came through danger of death and worse and suffered a painful imprisonment of some weeks in the harem of Sheik Majid before she was rescued by a British Relief Column, under Brigadier-General F. E. Conyngham. The story of her experiences at Sharaban during the rising is a thrilling story of British bravery and calm resolution in defiance of terrible odds and reflects the wonderful courage of the woman who stood by her husband during the siege of the Qushlah and, to use her own words, "put up a fight of our own," when the Arabs managed to enter the building. Her husband was killed, and she was carried off.

PUPILS' RECITAL FOR PUPILS

Given Tuesday Afternoon at Mrs. Hayes's Studio.

On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock a very pleasing and excellent piano recital was given by Miss Mildred Ostrander, pupil of Mrs. Asenath Hayes, at Mrs. Hayes's studio on Green street. She was assisted by Ruby Almfelt, Ella May Tubble, Margaret Wilson, all piano students, and Miss Almfelt also gave readings. It is Mrs. Hayes's custom to require that her pupils shall from time to time give recitals before the other students of their respective grades, and this recital was one such. Most of the numbers, admirably played, were given from memory, the composers represented on the program being Spalding, Behrens, Kinroff, Behr, Beethoven, Mozart and Missa. Another pleasing and instructive feature of the afternoon was a short talk given by Mrs. Hayes on the history of the piano forte and its ancestors, the well-tempered clavichord, the virginal and the spinet. The student giving the recital is privileged to invite her friends, and at the close of the well rendered program Mrs. Hayes served light but delicious refreshments.

Wise Laws of the Ancients.

The Levitican law, effective 225 B. C., forbade anyone to own more than 200 acres of land and more than 200 horse cattle, or 300 small animals. Another law of the same date, 24 B. C., imposed a heavy penalty on those who organized clubs for mutual power of an election, while another law, 242 B. C., limited the funds one might expend for supplying his table.

DEMPSEY LEAVES EAST AND TROUBLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Uneasy is the heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey. His life, of late, has been just one thing or another. Rumors, counter rumors, subpoena servers and what-note have been on his trail.

Now the reformers are after him. Officers of the International Reform Bureau aim to have the champion put under arrest on charges of violating the prize fight section of the Criles act of New Jersey. Unless Dempsey appears in the court of General Sessions in Jersey City today the reformers say they will seek warrants for the arrest and arraignment of some of the highest officials of the state. They may even attempt to bring about action looking toward the impeachment of Governor Edwards.

Meanwhile Dempsey has left the reformers flat. The champion took a sudden notion to go west and according to his manager, Jack Kearns, he is on his way to Salt Lake City today accompanied by his trainer, Teddy Hayes. Kearns will remain in New York to protect his interests and those of the champion in a suit for damages brought by one Frank Spellman, who is suing Dempsey for $100,000 and Kearns for a like sum, alleging violation of a moving picture agreement. Spellman yesterday attached the champion's $15,000 limousine.

Car in Jam.

One of the tank trucks of the Texaco Oil Company and an Overland touring car had a brush at the corner of Wall street and North Front street this morning. No damage was done. A Ford sedan coming up North Front street blocked the way of the truck as it was turning the police standard on North Front street to come back into Wall street. The Overland coming close behind the truck was unable to stop and ran into the rear of the truck. A scratched mud guard was the only damage.

OIL MEN DENY MEXICAN BOYCOTT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Standard Oil officials today emphatically denied that their company is boycotting the Mexican government, or trying to force smaller companies out, as stated today in Mexico City despatches.

From well-informed sources it was learned in common with the other American producers of petroleum in Mexico, the Standard Oil officials simply feel that in levying an export tax of approximately forty five cents per barrel on crude oil, the Mexican government has raised an insurmountable economic barrier.

"The only thing happening in Mexico at the present time is the natural result of imposing larger taxes than the oil business can bear," said Guy Stevens, head of the association of producers of petroleum in Mexico. "Practically every company has found it impossible to market oil at a price that will stand the taxes."

QUASHES CHARGES AGAINST HAEBERLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Hoboken, N. J., July 6.—United States Commissioner Edward R. Stanton today dismissed charges of conspiracy and false arrest against Armenius T. Haeberle, United States consul at Rio Janeiro, and Archibald Price, an American ship chandler at Rio Janeiro, who was arrested on board the Martha Washington last week. The charges had been brought by Captain William H. Chambliss, former master of the U. S. Shipping Board steamer Lake Elkwood. Chambliss had alleged further that as the result of a conspiracy against him, he was illegally relieved of his ship at Rio Janeiro. At the time of the incident Haeberle was the representative of the U. S. Shipping Board. The commissioner's action followed a statement by Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick Pearse, of Newark, N. J., that the state department, the department of justice and the shipping board had investigated the charges and found them baseless. Chambliss said he had communicated with President Harding and Secretary Hughes questioning the right of a consular officer to plead immunity from arrest as Haeberle did last week.

UNIONS PROTEST

Against Trials of Defendants Outside Own Districts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and other organized labor leaders today lodged a protest with Attorney General Daugherty against a bill now before congress, providing for trials of defendants outside of their domiciles.

The bill now before the house judiciary committee was referred to Attorney General Daugherty for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The attorney general in hearings today gave labor leaders a chance to present their arguments.

The explanation which would radically change present court procedure, grows out of the fight of 226 defendants in the coal conspiracy cases. Defendants in these cases are fighting removal to Indianapolis for trial before Federal Judge Anderson, in whose court the indictments were returned. Their bills attacking the constitutionality of the removal procedure of the department of justice have been filed in five different states.

ROSCOE SAVED

From Ice Creamless 4th By Special Auto Trip From Here.

Somebody ought to write a poem along the lines of "Sheridan's Ride" describing the whirlwind relief expedition that one of the Archie Winter Express Company's trucks made on the Fourth to carry a supply of ice cream to the perishing people of Roscoe, Sullivan County. The cream had been shipped from Albany too late to go out on the O. & W. train. Roscoe people were famishing and the goods were perishable. Relief was arranged by telephone messenger and the expedition was off on a journey of 65 miles. The goods were delivered on time and Roscoe was saved from an ice creamless holiday. Incidentally the local express company didn't lose any money.

MILK DRIVERS STRIKE.

And Bronx Families In Thousands Get No Milk.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—More than 50,000 families in the Bronx found that their morning milk had not been delivered today as a result of a strike of 155 drivers for the Sheffield Farms-Slawson-Decker Milk Company.

The strike, which is not sanctioned by the officials of the union, was caused, it is thought, by the refusal of an "extra driver" to accept the milk company's refusal to pay him for more than four days' work per week, unless he actually worked the extra time. "Extras" are guaranteed four days' work per week.

President Sterbinsky of the union declared that the strike is due to the workings of a "radical" clique.

Van Aken-Brown.

Homer Van Aken of this city and Miss Cornelia Brown of Hurley were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of the Rondout Presbyterian Church by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. G. Ellis.

Winchell-Brodhead.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brodhead on Thursday, June 30, at 4 o'clock, when their only daughter, Daisie Mae Shurter, became the bride of Grover Cleveland Winchell of Olive Bridge. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. W. Budd, pastor of the M. E. Church. After a wedding supper the party made their departure. Mr. and Mrs. Winchell will reside at Olive Bridge.

Richter-Terwilliger.

Harry Richter of No. 203 Greenkill avenue and Miss Jane E. Terwilliger, daughter of Ralph Terwilliger of this city, were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the parsonage of the Wurts Street Baptist Church by the Rev. A. K. Fuller in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends. The bride was attended by Miss Marguerite Snyder and the groom by Thomas A. Rowland. The groom is a member of the paid fire department and the bride an employe of the New York Telephone Company. Both are very popular and have the well wishes of a host of friends. After a honeymoon trip they will reside in this city.

NO LOWER TAXES

May be Expected This Year From Congress.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 6.—Hope for tax revision in time to lighten the burden on the earnings of 1921 practically fled today. Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair stated that unless congress speeds up the enactment of revision it will be impossible to force its operation during 1921. This means that the American people will pay the same rate of federal taxes for the present year that they did last year.

Secretary Mellon is understood to hold the same view, and to have notified members of congress to this effect.

Commissioner Blair said that business generally is proceeding on the basis of the 1921 taxation and that any eleventh hour revision would entail confusion in industrial and commercial lines.

TO VISIT DISABLED VETS.

Senate Committee Will Inspect Institutions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, July 6.—A personal inspection of many hospitals, sanitariums and vocational education centers is planned by the special senate committee investigating charges of neglect and ill treatment of disabled and sick world war veterans in such institutions.

Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Massachusetts, at whose request the investigation was authorized by the senate, expressed the opinion today that the committee should acquire first-hand knowledge of the conditions under which maimed and sick ex-service men are living.

Johnson And Wills Matched.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Jersey City, N. J., July 6.—Dave Driscoll, local boxing promoter, has matched Jack Johnson and Harry Wills to box either in New Jersey or New York some time in August. It was learned here this afternoon. Driscoll, it was said, is not prepared to announce details of the match, but it is said he plans to hold it in the local baseball park or in Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Kaber Jury All Men.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Court House, Cleveland, Ohio, July 6.—A jury to try Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, alleged arch conspirator in the murder plot which resulted in the death of her husband, Daniel Kaber, was accepted at noon today. The accused woman won in her efforts to keep women from the jury. Twelve men will sit in judgment on her.

Why It's a "Dead Rabbit."

If any of Charley Brunswick's friends this evening see him with his hair cut, as the boys say, a "dead rabbit," they will know that he lost his bet with Joe Dalton, the Strand vulcanizer. The bet was that the vulcanizing buffer would do a neat job in cutting a head of hair and giving it a close cut.

Rumor Has Trotzky Arrested.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, July 6.—Leon Trotzky, minister of war in the Russian soviet government, has been arrested by Nicolai Lenine, according to an unconfirmed dispatch received by L'Information today from Moscow. The dispatch gave no details

SONG AND COAL EXPERTS HEARD

Whatever suspicion they may have entertained in the past, Kingston Rotarians were convinced at their noon luncheon today that John Gregory, vocalist of "Lulu" fame, is entirely destitute of that professional jealousy so common to great singers, when Mr. Gregory introduced Mr. Hamilton, composer, song writer and vocalist, and called on him to "vociferate." Mr. Hamilton vociferated two verses of the national anthem of which he is the author with great success and enthusiasm, after explaining that although he is 80 years of age, he reads without glasses, has been a choir singer and needed no aid from an accompanist except to have "low b" struck on the piano.

H. W Harrison gave a vocational talk on the coal business and at the conclusion President Watts asked all who were satisfied with the present price of coal to manifest it by standing on their heads. Mr. Harrison had a surgeon on one side of him and an undertaker on the other during his talk, so was prepared for any emergency that might arise.

Arthur Carr gave a vivid account of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight as he saw it. The perfect order in which 91,000 persons—more than three times the population of Kingston—assembled and dispersed, impressed Mr. Carr more than did the fight itself. As to the second round, Mr. Carr said he believed Dempsey spoke the truth when saying he had no recollection of receiving any punishment in that round, as after the first three blows Carpentier landed Dempsey probably did not recollect anything. Had Carpentier's fourth blow landed, the fight would have ended right there.

After voting to hold a basket picnic on Wednesday, July 20, and to give the Boys' Club an automobile ride on Thursday evening, July 14, the meeting closed.

Diamonds Were Insured.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Trenton, N. J., July 6.—Joseph Haskell, New York diamond salesman, who arrived here today in search of his handbag containing jewels valued at $175,000 which he lost in a Pullman car between New York and Trenton, said that the diamonds were insured by Lloyd's for $150,000. So far the local police, who are being aided in their search by Pennsylvania railroad detectives, have reported no clues.

Republicans Justify New Tariff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, July 6.—Justification for the protective rates of the Fordney tariff revision recently completed by the Republican members of the house ways and means committee, is claimed in a lengthy report which they submitted today to the house.

DEFENDS MARRIED MAN

Who Was Tarred and Feathered by Her Brothers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

East Pepperell, Mass., July 6.—Miss Esther Robbins was today said to be staunchly defending Percy England who was tarred and feathered, it is alleged, by the girl's brothers, Prof. Grover C. Robbins and Roger S. Robbins, and Robert R. Meredith. Objections to England as a suitor of the young woman, because he is already married, led to the drastic treatment. The three men are today out on bail.

In addition to the tarring, England was beaten nearly to insensibility. He has announced his intention of remaining here until his assailants are punished. He is quoted as declaring he intends to make an honorable proposal of marriage to the girl as soon as he has obtained a divorce from his wife, now "in the old country."

England is employed here as a chauffeur. Miss Robbins is a member of one of the village's leading families. She had been courted rather openly of late by the chauffeur. She is said to have declared herself willing to testify in his behalf.

WENDELL'S TRIAL.

Second Monday in September Probable Time.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—The second Monday in September was tentatively set today as the date for the trial of State Comptroller James A. Wendell former State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis and Albert L. Judson, bond broker. All three are under indictment for grand larceny, misuse of state funds and false audit. Wendell and Travis were in court and Judson was represented by Attorney Herrick. The three accused refused to plead to the charges, declaring that they have previously made their pleas. The intention of fighting the case to the court of appeals to block the trial was indicated in the arguments in court today before Justice John W. McAvoy.

Bergdoll Matter Brought Up.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, Ga., July 6.—"The whole Bergdoll matter is a stain on the administration of the war department and a reflection on this government," declared Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian of the United States, in an address here today before the convention of the Georgia department of the American Legion. Miller was defending his recent action in seizing property of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious slacker.

Bleachers At Athletic Field.

Bleachers to accommodate about 500 people are being erected at the northeast corner of Athletic Field.

Playthings for Baby.

Many playthings can be made for small children from pasteboard.

To make a wagon use a four-cornered box to which pasteboard wheels should be attached by wooden axles, these latter put through the sides of the box close to the bottom. Use common pins or small nails to hold the wheels on the axles. A small box inside the wagon does for a seat. Cut out a horse from pasteboard, stand him in front of the wagon, then cut the dasher down a little way. Put Dobbin's tail into this and if his feet touch level the rig is complete.

Unfair Advantage.

One-Handed Clock.

What is probably the oldest alarm clock in America, made in America, dates back to pre-Revolutionary times, and was made by Jonathan Wood of Philadelphia. The clock has but one hand, that telling the hours, which are in Roman numerals, separated into four sections, 15 minutes apart, so that it is possible to estimate the time within ten or three minutes after a little practice. The time and alarm are both operated by weights.

The Center of Population.

The center of population is the center of gravity of the population of a country, each individual being supposed to have the same weight. In the United States the center of population has followed the parallel of 39 degrees latitude and has moved in a westward direction during the last 125 years.

PLAN FOR NEXT WAR

Germans Grab Off 220 Patents in United States.

Secretary of War Tells of "Insidious Patent Activity by Germany" in This Country.

Washington.—"Insidious patent activity by Germany," in the United States, is the description given by Secretary of War Weeks to the efforts of German citizens here to patent devices of war in the name of Frederick Krupp.

The secretary declares that investigation of patents and applications for patents recently announced as having been obtained by German citizens shows that 220 were assigned to the Krupps, the war implement manufacturer of Germany.

"The investigation," said Secretary Weeks, "disclosed a rather striking circumstance in view of the conditions which Germany is supposed to observe as to disarmament and manufacture of war materials under her treaty obligations.

"Of the 220 patents, twenty-six relate to artillery fire control devices, eighteen to electric control apparatus, nine to fuses and projectiles, six to gas engines and appurtenances, seventeen to guns and their appurtenances, three to processes for the production of metals, ten to naval fire control devices, three to projectiles and machines for handling same, fourteen to railroad artillery, and the balance to varied uses, most of which might well relate to military use.

"Incident to making this investigation, it was noted that a large number of patents and applications had been assigned to numerous other German countries and a casual examination indicates that a considerable number relate to airplanes and their accessories, chemicals, dyes, radio apparatus and naval equipment.

"Investigation is being made of all these assignments and considerable progress has been made looking toward introduction of corrective measures in congress for the protection of those American industries in which the war department is especially interested, against this recurrence of insidious patent activity by Germany."

SCORNS WEALTH FOR U. S. A.

Penn[illegible]vania Woman Would Rather Be Washerwoman in America Than an Heiress in Sweden.

Philadelphia.—"I would rather be a washerwoman in the United States than an heiress in Sweden," declared Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson of Waterville, Pa., as she straightened up from the washtub and patriotically waved a sudsy garment.

"I couldn't think of going back to the old country," she said, "after having lived in the good old U. S. A. I would die of homesickness."

Word came to Mrs. Hendrickson a short time ago that two grandnieces recently had died in Sweden, leaving her a share in a large fortune which, according to some reports, amounted to nearly $2,000,000. Mrs. Hendrickson engaged a lawyer to go to Sweden to look after her interests. He came back with the news that there would be no money for her so long as she remained in this country.

"I'll never go back, no matter how much money there is waiting for me," said Mrs. Hendrickson.

HOUSEKEEPER GETS $125,000

Cleveland Man Leaves Bulk of Estate to Servant—Was Pugilists' Friend.

Cleveland.—Practically all of his $125,000 estate was bequeathed by Al Rumsey to Miss [illegible]eanor Gregory, his housekeeper, according to the terms of his will admitted probate at Sandusky, Ohio.

Rumsey was chief commissioner for the Cleveland Lake Carriers' association. He was a friend of prize fighters, horsemen and actors.

The will bequeaths $5,000 to Miss Inora Brooks of Vermillion and grants her the privilege of passing the remainder of her life anywhere on the estate.

To Luther Day he left his diamond stickpin, and to Harold Burton his watch and chain.

Half Dollar in Boys Throat.

Louisville.—Dr. S. Shelton Watkins recently removed a half-dollar which, since January, had been lodged in the throat of Ray Johnson, 12-year-old son of a Brownsville, Ky., stock farmer. Dr. Watkins administered an anesthetic, after which he obstructed the coin with forceps. The boy was able to leave the hospital several hours later.

Graft Ears on Baby Boy to Restore His Hearing

An operation, said to be unique in the annals of surgery, is being performed on Charles Brown, three months old, at a hospital in Omaha, Neb. The series of operations will take several weeks to complete.

Little Charles is normal in every way except that he has no ears. Twelve physicians are endeavoring to graft hearing apparatus onto the child. The first operations proved successful.

Skin taken from the thighs of the infant is being used to model the ears.

Inspiring the Truth.

There can be no doubt that the primary way of encouraging in any mind adoration a truth of which I am in contact, or of impressing upon me a deeper persuasion of a truth with which I am acquainted, is by an appeal to my reason.—William Godwin

RAILROAD POLICE BEING UNIFORMED

It was at the suggestion of Governor Miller that a bill was passed on March 10th, vesting in the superintendent of state police the power to appoint and revoke the license of any railroad or steamboat policeman in the State of New York.

This power was held for many years by the chief executive of the state, and as the special policemen in this service increased in numbers, the duty of making these appointments became perfunctory as well as onerous.

The governor held that to place this transportation police work under the supervision of the state police would be equivalent to forming an alliance between the two great organizations, and be a progressive step in coordinating the police forces of the state in a state-wide defence against crime.

To get complete cooperation and understanding, the railroad police chiefs in session in New York, May 4th, invited Major George F. Chandler, superintendent of state police, to meet with them and discuss the betterment of the service.

The railroad and steamboat police, some three thousand in number, have always done their work in plain clothes. At this session in New York, Major Chandler presented to the associated chiefs the advantages of a uniformed force.

A policeman in uniform is a repressive agent, and one of the most modern ideas in police work is the effort to prevent crime rather than the passive waiting to apprehend the criminal after the deed is done.

The New York Central Railroad has been the first to adopt the railroad police uniform, and the men on this force, in their neat gray and black, may now be seen in every station and on every train. The traveling public will shortly begin to realize that the transportation lines are policed and will appreciate the protection afforded.

Governor Miller is intensely interested in the movement for the cooperation of all police forces of the state. Under the new powers of the superintendent of state police, the men appointed by him as transportation policemen have the power of arrest anywhere in the state. They will therefore be of help to the state police in the enforcement of the law.

Lines of communication between the railroad police and the state troopers are being arranged by means of a network of telephone stations and outposts throughout the state. This will give quick cooperation between the two services, making the apprehension of criminals easier and the prevention of crime more certain.

PYTHIAN MEETING TO BE LARGEST

Attendance at Convention Here July 25 Will Exceed City's Accommodations and Rooms are Needed.

The grand lodge convention of the Knights of Pythias will be held in Kingston during the week of July 25. It will be the largest convention ever held in the city. Many who desire to attend will be unable to do so except for one day because of the inability to furnish sufficient lodging accommodations. It is expected that fifteen hundred will be in attendance during the entire week, and that one thousand more will be here on Wednesday of the week.

The grand temple of the Pythian Sisters will be held at the same time. They expect to have a larger delegation than at any previous convention. The knights will hold their business session in the main hall of the Elks' Home and the Pythian Sisters will hold their session in the Elks' beautiful lodge room. The Elks graciously offered the use of their building to the Knights of Pythian Sisters.

The grand lodge headquarters will be at the Stuyvesant Hotel and the grand temple headquarters at the Eagle. Major General Shepard, of the Uniform Rank, and his staff, will be quartered at the Kirkland. Saloam Temple of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorasson, will be at the West Shore Hotel. Others will be quartered at the Mitchell House, Kingston Hotel, Cuneo's and Cook's. The local committee is desirous of obtaining as many rooms as possible in private rooming houses and dwellings. Already about one hundred rooms have been secured but as many more are needed. Anyone having a room which they will let out for the week can communicate with the Chamber of Commerce or William H. Stork.

A splendid program for the week has been arranged by the local committee and approved by the grand lodge convention committee. The opening meeting will be held at the high school auditorium on Monday evening, July 25. It will be open to the public. There will be an orchestra to furnish music and also special music. Among others who will speak are Supreme Chancellor Ladew of New York city, Supreme Vice Chancellor George Cabell of Virginia and other notable Pythians. Mayor Canfield, who is grand chancellor, will preside at the meeting.

The Pythian Order enjoyed its greatest growth last year since it was instituted in 1866. The gain this past year in this state was equal to that of the preceding ten years. The total membership of the knights is nearly one million and that of the Pythian Sisters nearly three hundred thousand. The Knights and Pythian Sisters are looking forward to the next convention this year ever held. Kingston will welcome them.

SIXTH WORLD'S C. E. CONVENTION

Opened in 71st Regiment Armory In New York City Today—Many From Kingston Attending Sessions—Dr. Poling Injured.

A number of the Christian Endeavor societies in Kingston and Ulster county are represented at the sixth world's Christian Endeavor convention which opened today in the 71st Regiment armory in New York city, and will remain in session until next Monday.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the United C. E. Societies, was injured in an auto accident on the Fourth of July. He was motoring to New York city from his summer home at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire, to attend the convention. He is in a hospital receiving treatment for a sprained back and minor injuries. Dr. Poling is remembered here as the man who addressed the rally of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor several months ago when he made a deep impression upon his audience.

Saturday will occur the big C. E. parade on Fifth avenue when there will be a score of floats representing as many scenes from Pilgrim's Progress, and will be one of the many features of what will be the largest convention of its kind ever held. The parade forms at 23rd street at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will march up Fifth avenue terminating at an outdoor meeting in Central Park at which William Jennings Bryan will be the speaker.

The session open this evening when the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who founded the Christian Endeavor organization forty years ago, will preside.

Chorus singing will be another feature of the convention and the delegation will be led by Homer Rodeheaver, the famous leader of the Billy Sunday campaigns and Percy Foster.

Acting as sponsor at Raritan, N. J., of a rowboat made by a nine-year-old boy, President Harding delivered a Fourth of July oration of a single sentence in tribute to the aspirations of American boyhood. The diminutive craft, which inspired the toast, was the Raritan, nine feet over all, conceived and built by Joseph Frelinghuysen, Jr., son of the senior Senator from New Jersey, at whose home Mr. and Mrs. Harding were guests. The bank of an artificial lake was the scene of the launching and will be the home port of the Raritan as she sails a tramp course in search of misdirected golf balls. Specially constructed ways, whose upper end rested on a soap box, guided her down the bank. The president broke a beribboned bottle of mineral water across her bow and said: "As a tribute to American boyhood, who build castles in the air, who build boats and whose achievements in the future will build this country, I christen this boat, the handiwork of Joe Frelinghuysen, the 'Raritan.'" The photo shows the president christening the boat, with little Joe at the helm.

FINDS BANK STOCK

Hidden Years Ago And Now Sues Bank's Successor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—There were no safe deposit vaults in New York in 1822. And so, when Thomas Williams, shortly before his death in that year, wanted a safe place to keep a certificate for sixty-seven shares of stock in the old Mechanics Bank, he had no better place than an old copy of Spencer's Faerie Queen. There it lay for almost a century, until discovered by a genealogist, delving in the archives of the past.

And that is why Alfred Watkins Seymour, great-grandson of Williams and owner of the precious slip of paper, now said to be worth at least $500,000 in accrued unpaid dividends, is renewing his legal action against the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, the lineal descendant of the old Mechanics Bank. Seymour owns a small restaurant in Seattle, and is the sole heir to Thomas Williams. He is 65 years old and has a wife and family.

NEW YORK BOY DROWNS IN RIVER

Morris Chassner, living at 412 Cherry street, New York city, was drowned while trying to swim in the Hudson river at Marlborough on Sunday.

Chassner was graduated from the grammar school he attended in New York in June and on Wednesday of last week came to Marlborough with two other boys to pick berries throughout the season. The three boys were employed on the farm of Howard Baker, where Chassner was employed in picking berries last year also.

On account of the heat on Sunday, the three boys decided to bathe in the river and procured a raft near the shore from which to dive. Chassner could not swim. He made a dive from the raft, came to the surface and then sank.

The body was recovered and Coroner George Suiter of Marlborough was summoned, who issued a burial permit. Chassner was 16 years and 9 days old. The body was taken to New York for interment.

Predicts New Polish Trouble.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, July 6.—A new Polish insurgent uprising is brewing in Upper Silesia, according to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today. The rebels will begin the movement with a strike on July 10, but actual fighting is not expected to break out until July 17, the newspaper stated. The insurgents are said to be receiving pay and already are being drilled in Poland. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said that its information was secured from an authoritative source. However, it has not been officially confirmed. Germans are protesting against new bandit outrages in the districts of Gleiwitz, Rybnik and Ratibor, in Upper Silesia.

MOST CHAMPIONS EASY TO HIT

Best Men of Ring Have Been Those Who Could Take All Other Fellow Had and Then Knock Him Out.

(By Tad.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—They were discussing Saturday's fight.

"Dempsey didn't miss many of the punches that Carpentier shot at him," said Gregory Mitchell, the San Diego sportsman.

"And it seemed to me that the champion couldn't get away from them," piped Tom Mulvey of Frisco.

Jim Coffroth, the western promoter, then spoke up.

"As a matter of fact," said Coffroth, most of our heavy weight champions have been easy to hit. When you stop to think of it only two heavy weight champions ever managed to go through their ring careers without taking much punishment. There was Corbett, his footwork and marvellous boxing ability saved him in all his matches.

"Corbett, you might say, was the original disappearing gun. He is unmarked today even though he met every great man of his time. The other fellow was Jack Johnson. With a great defense, coupled with his timidity, he was seldom hit. Johnson was probably the greatest defensive big man the world ever saw. Being stronger than any man who ever pulled on a pair of gloves, he was a hard man to get close to.

"Figuring along from Sullivan down to Dempsey, most of the champions were marks. Sullivan's iron jaw saved him in many a fight. Patsy Cardiff knocked him clear across the ring in Minneapolis, breaking his hand on John L.'s head. Little Charley Mitchell sent him sprawling on the floor in their New York fight.

"Then came Fitzsimmons. He was a notorious target. Maher had him reeling all over the ring in New Orleans. Choynski had him on the floor a couple of times and Ruhlin had him punch drunk in their fight. Corbett cut him and had him down at Carson City and there were other fights in which he just barely lasted.

"Jeffries was easy to hit by most every man he ever met. In Frisco when he fought Fitz the second time his head was as big as a barrel. Both his eyes were closed, his mouth was cut and his face on the right side was swollen all out of proportion. Corbett hit him 10,000 times at Coney Island, but Jim's punch was gone. It was Jeff's great physique and ability to take it that made him champion.

"Willard was another mark to shoot at. He was big but was easy to hit. He had taken many a punch on the chin before Dempsey mussed him up at Toledo.

"Now we get down to Dempsey. He, too, has been hit in all his fights, but then, he can take it. He doesn't seem to care about the other fellow at all. Jack wants to get in where he can hit the other fellow. He knows that when he lands he will bring the other fellow down and I think he's right."

BASEBALL BACK IN LIMELIGHT

Indians And Pirates Still Showing Way To Yankees and Giants But Inter-Sectional Series May Change All That.

(By Jack Veiock)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Baseball bounced back into the calcium today. The good old pastime is as much a part of summer as sunburn and freckles. You can't keep it down.

With the big fight a thing of history the keen races in the major leagues resumed their prominence on the stage of sport and if present indications hold good they will monopolize the spotlight pretty steadily from now until October.

Golf and tennis events of national and international interest, and the Davis Cup matches, and an occasional fistic attraction such as the proposed Gibbons-Carpentier battle, will divert the attention of the sporting public at odd times during the next three months, but the stars of the diamond will demand their usual tribute.

As a rule the teams that head the packs in the American and National leagues on July 4 are bangup favorites to win the pennants. This is only partly true today for the reason that both races are two-club affairs.

The champion Cleveland Indians are barely holding their own with the heavy hitting Yankees stepping on their heels.

The Pittsburgh Pirates have managed to keep a few paces ahead of John McGraw's pennant-hungry Giants in the National League.

But there is no certainty that the first of August will not see a change in the complexion of both races.

The impending inter-sectional series with eastern American and western National league clubs on the road may develop the real turning points of both races.

The fate of the Yankees may hang on what they can do in the west. The same may be said of the Pirates, playing in the east. And neither team is going to have an easy row to hoe. The coming series, therefore, will leave the Indians and Giants with everything in their favor for building up percentage and if they are to keep in the scramble they will have to take advantage of it.

Tris Speaker's team so far this season has shown the best fighting spirit of any club in either league. Time after time the Indians have overcome sizable leads by their opponents, coming from behind to win with a rush in the last few innings. They have this to thank for the fact that they are leading their league today.

In the case of the Pirates the situation has not changed in more than a month. It is the same old question of whether or not Mooney Gibson's pitchers will be able to hold out. If they crack the Giants will pass them sure, and once in the van McGraw's team will be about as easy to catch as a handful of wild eels.

Fandom will also keep a keener weather eye on Babe Ruth now that Jack and Georges have had their fling. The Rusting Bambino, with 31 mighty circuits already running up, is comfortably ahead of his 1920 record and is a good bet to shatter it. His 31st homer last summer was made on July 20 off Red Faber at the Polo Grounds.

George Kelly, with twelve homers, is out of the running as a competitor of the Big Babe.

Elaborately Computed by Former Kingstonian.

L. DeWitt Griswold, formerly a well known resident of Kingston, writes in the Middletown Press as follows:

As a matter of curiosity, coupled with scientific information, we have elaborately computed, approximately the number of leap year suspensions, or how many times leap year can occur during a period of 4,000 years, and shorter intermediate periods, based upon the exact, minute time required for the earth to pass around the sun—from one vernal equinox to another—called the vernal or tropical year, which is the true year—365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 49.7 seconds. Now, the solar (true) year is 10462-43200 of a day greater than a common year—365 days fractionally, and approximately, expressed. It is upon this approximation that we have computed the exact number of leap years that only can occur in 4,000 years, reckoning from 1752, when was made the last correction of the time between the solar and our now civil calendar.

On the advent of last year, 1920, a leap year, the writer, in a voluminous article in the Times-Press, adduced the reason why we have leap years, and showed that every fourth year (its multiple) is not a leap year. It caused much discussion, contradiction, and even small betting was staked on the issue; little amounts lost and gained, pro and con, as we were so informed, by the various communications we received concerning the conditions of the subject discussed.

The first correction made in the calendar was in 1582, under the decree of Pope Gregory, when was stricken from the calendar 10 days: the day following the 4th of October was considered the 14th, consequently October had only 21 days.

The second correction in the calendar was in 1752, 170 years later, during which time Great Britain had continued the Julian Calendar, which was used 1,628 years, from 46 years B. C. to 1582. At this time the civil year was 11 days behind the solar year. Finally, to correct this error, the British government decreed that eleven days should be stricken from the calendar, and that the day following the 2d day of September, 1752, should be considered the 14th. So here we see the reason why we have leap years—to keep the civil and solar calendars uniform, the seasons in their regular chronological order, so to speak; otherwise, in time the month of June (with its proverbial "June weddings") would take the place of December. It will also be seen that September, 1752, had only 19 days, in the civil calendar.

Now not 100 2219—approximately computed, nearly 300 years hence, will it be necessary to again correct the civil calendar, by striking out one day of the month, in which, is made the correction: for, during these 30 decades, owing to the mentioned infinitesimal difference, still existing between the two calendars, viz: 10462-43200 of a day, one [illegible] will have been lost. This one or more ways inserted in or expunged from the calendar, are called fractionary days.

Now, the number of leap years that can only occur during certain chronological periods, when one day must be stricken from the common year, follows: Once every 4 years; 7 times every 28 years; 8 times every 33 years; 163 times every 672 years and not over 969 times in 4,000 years.

Therefore, under the now almost absolutely precise construction of our calendarial system, one day must be stricken from the civil calendar, when it will be necessary to make the next correction, 297 years hence to be exact, or 4,000 years from 1752, when was made the second correction, at which time leap year was first injected into the civil calendar, and previous to which time leap year was unknown.

Think of the mathematical, herculean task performed, the arrival of figures computed, the sybaritic researches acquired to obtain these difficult, destructive, mathematical results, partly through curiosity, but mainly through scientific information.
